VOLUME XIV, NUMBER 1

CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT COLLEGE

AUGUST 12, 1982

Vehicles must be registered before Sept. 3

All Students, Faculty and Staff members of the College who operate or park a motor vehicle on campus are required to register their vehicle with the Parking Administration at the Campus Center Information Desk no later than September 3, 1982.

Vehicle registration fees are prorated as follows:

September 1, 1982-August 31, 1983 — $3

January 1, 1983-August 31, 1983 — $2

June 1, 1983-August 31, 1983 — $1

The new parking decals are on sale now and may be purchased at the Campus Center Information Desk. Early vehicle registration is encouraged.

I.D. cards made in Campus Center

Before getting caught up in the hectic life of a college student, be sure to have your I.D. made. This card with your picture on it must be presented to check out materials from the library as well as to gain admission to certain campus activities.

I.D. pictures will be made during the summer from 7:30 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday at the Information Desk in the Campus Center.

Starting August 30, the hours for having an I.D. made will be 7:30 a.m.-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and on Fridays, from 7:30-4:30 p.m.

Cost for an I.D. is $3 and proof of registration must be presented at the time.

Campus Center grows and matures

by Linda Dozier

Correcting the noise problem and better utilizing space have been the predominant ideas in the Campus Center addition. Bidding for the project opened on April 28, 1982 and was quickly followed by ground breaking construction in mid-July. The completion date for the project has been proposed somewhere in the Fall of 1984.

The bid for the Campus Center project was not one consolidated idea but four separate phases. These phases are the renovation of the old edifice, the addition to the center, road construction, and the expansion of the theatre entrance.

As the result of construction, many main streets on campus have been closed. Also approximately 80 to 85 parking spaces have been sacrificed. However, these spaces will be replaced by 100 new spaces by the gym and 100 to 150 spaces in a proposed parking lot to be built by Wingfield Hall.

As Dr. Charles Behymer, Vice President for Student Affairs, stated, "More spaces should be picked up than lost."

Another traffic change will be the abolishment of the current road leading to Moores Lane and the introduction of a new road steamlined to the building.

The extension to the Campus Center will be made to the front of the current building. It will consist of a large cafeteria on one side, which will seat approximately 300 people and allow more flexibility in serving hot and cold food. It will offer a fast food area, a salad bar, and a private catering service. The interior will have all new chairs and tables plus an all glass wall overlooking the front lawn.

The rest of the complex will consist of mainly offices. Most of the offices located upstairs in the current Campus Center will be moved to this area. This section will also contain a game room two times the size of the present one. This area will also house the pub which will have a private party room with a small stage and a kitchen for preparing light entrees.

The old Campus Center building will also undergo some changes. First a wall will be built on the right side of the elevator. The area in front of the elevator and the current game room will become a lounge and study area that will be soundproofed and have a separate entrance.

The existing pub, cafeteria and Admiralty Room will become the new bookstore, and the area behind the current serving line will be converted to a storage room for the center.

The upstairs of the Campus Center, which is nine years old, will not be renovated, but several of the offices will be redecorated and rearranged.

The next major renovation will be done to the theatre. This will include the building of a separate entrance to the theatre by the gym and the addition of a second set of doors inside the first set. The idea is to cut the noise and to keep the theatre self-contained and separate from the rest of the building. This should prove to be beneficial to CNC's Performing Arts Department.

Belated parking spaces to be created

by Kelly Howell

I have some good news and some bad news. The good news is that plans are underway for a new parking lot. The bad news is that it will not be ready until October 1.

The project is labeled the North Parking Lot Expansion. Its location will be adjacent to the parking lot already located behind Wingfield Hall. Actually, this expansion is the second half of that original parking lot. The North Parking Lot Expansion will inevitably become a permanent parking lot.

The Campus Center expansion has added to the already existing parking problem. According to Richard White, Capital Outlay Specialist, 85 parking spaces will be lost due to the construction on the Campus Center. However, the North Parking Lot Expansion will furnish an additional 150 parking spaces.

Contract bids for the expansion will begin on August 19. Construction will begin as soon as contracts are settled. The parking lot will take approximately 30 days to construct. Realistically, the North Parking Lot Expansion should be completed by October 1, considering everything goes as planned.

Initial construction to the Campus Center caused the front road to close and created detours.

The Captain's Log introduces two new features

The Captain's Log will have two added features this year to increase student input and enjoyment of the newspaper.

Our biggest supplement is the creation of a section to spotlight the creative talent of the student body. We will publish poems, short essays, short stories, and opinion pieces. If your talent takes a more concrete form, you may submit feature photographs or photographs of your sculpture or painting. This is not a contest, only an opportunity to display your artistic genius.

The other feature will allow students, faculty and staff to send a personal message (within reason) to another person on campus. One-two inch notices for special occasions such as birthdays and anniversaries can be purchased at a nominal price. However, for the month of September, these notices are FREE. In the classified section of the newspaper, personal messages will also be printed at 15¢ per line. Space for these messages is limited to three lines and will run for only one week. No obscene messages nor ones with overt sexual connotations will be printed.

Deadline for the personal messages and the student's creative work is Monday at 4 p.m. All submissions will be printed on a first-come-first-served basis as space permits.

Welcome Back To CNC

Construction symbolizes rebirth to writer

Just the other day, part of my childhood was rekindled when I finally saw the construction begin for the addition to the Campus Center. As a child, I was enthralled by the sight of new construction because I always looked to the more positive aspects of construction. Construction is a new beginning, a plan for the future, a longing of the human race to improve itself. Yet, the rest of our society seems to view construction as something evil or to be avoided. Except for Iggy Novo, it seems that everyone on this campus has nothing positive to say about the construction (Iggy is going to be the first person in the new pub.)

One major complaint about it is that it is going to take away parking spaces. True, but if there is to be any growth, there will inevitably be some problems. We must learn to adjust to our new surroundings. This is what college is all about, learning to adjust and to make the best of what we have. If you can not learn this, and it can be hard at some times, you will not have much of a chance in the "real world."

The Freshman class of 1986 is at a crossroads in the life of Christopher Newport College. Our college has always been growing, but now it is trying to take a giant leap into adulthood. This is evident by the hectic construction going on. You and you alone can make this the college experience that you desire. Hard work, perseverance and a lot of desire will make your college time a meaningful experience in your life. It will also enhance the rest of the college community whether you know it or not. We all have an effect on those around us.
