Stress Management Managing Stress Through Humor: Find relief and a cure for stress....laughter! Learn how to use humor to ease the pressures of work and home. Steve Kissell, Director of Mirthworks, Inc., promotes the use of humor to develop and maintain a healthy lifestyle.

CNC faculty and staff receive a discount, thus reducing the $35 fee to $24.50! Tuesday, September 18, 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. in Campus Center room 150. To register, please call 594-7158 or come by the Continuing Education Office, Admin. Room 328.

FYI The College has recently completed indirect cost negotiations with the National Endowment for the Humanities. These new rates should be applied to all grants and contract proposals submitted after receipt of this notice.

On Campus Rate: 51.6%
Off Campus Rate: 28.7%

Have some information you'd like to share with the CNC community?
Please submit your information in memo form to the Office of Public Relations
before noon on Wednesday
Need information?...call 594-7039.

The above rates should be applied to the total of all salaries and wages, excluding fringe benefit costs. The on campus rate applies to all grant and contract research and sponsored program activities conducted primarily on the College's campus. When grant program activities are conducted primarily off campus, the off campus rate may be used.

NOTICE FOR THE CHRONICLE

The Grants office has received notice of grants available from The Committee on Scholarly Communication with the People's Republic of China. Programs are being sponsored by the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Academy of Sciences, and the Social Science Research Council.

The Graduate Program supports individuals enrolled in a graduate program in social sciences or humanities to do course work or dissertation research at a Chinese university or research institute. Program is for one year, beginning September 1991. Deadline for application is October 13, 1990.

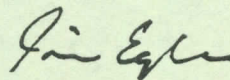

The Research Program supports individuals in the social science or humanities who hold a PH.D. or equivalent at the time of application to do in-depth research in China. This program offers grants for two to twelve months between July 1, 1991 and December 31, 1992. Application deadline is October 13, 1990.

The China Conference Travel Grants Program supports individuals with a PH.D. or equivalent in the social sciences or humanities to present results or recent research on an aspect of China studies at a conference in the Peoples Republic of China. Grants support partial travel expenses only, and do not support travel to lecture, teach, or consult, nor is travel supported to conferences dealing primarily with the improvement of teaching methods or skills. Application deadline is three months prior to the conference.

The Chinese Fellowships for Scholarly Development program supports Chinese scholars in the social sciences and humanities with master's or doctoral degree from a Chinese institution to conduct post-graduate research at a U. S. institution. American Scholars must nominate Chinese candidates to the program. Deadline is November 13, 1990.

Additional information can be provided concerning these programs. Please contact the Grants Office at extension 4-7266.

SUBJECT: Prime Computer Support for Fall, 1990 Classes

The Computer Center needs to know certain class related information in order to serve your instructional computer needs. In particular we need to know the class sections which will require use of the Prime and what the requisite software package(s) will be. Please complete the bottom of this memo and return it to the Computer Center at your earliest convenience.

Student accounts will be assigned as early in the semester as possible. A public account will be available until the individual assignments are made. Please indicate below if you require use of the Prime by your students during the first week of the semester.

Unplanned computer outages due to acts of God or human are inevitable but every attempt will be made by the Computer Center staff to minimize their ill effects on your classes. Notification of planned computer outages for maintenance and other necessary service interruptions will be made during the semester as soon as they have been identified. A ready means of communication to all affected instructors is necessary in order to accomplish this. The electronic mail system on the Prime will be used as the medium for exchanging information between the Computer Center staff and the faculty. If you have any concerns, problems, suggestions, or questions about service please mail them to the Prime account, MCCUBBIN. (To send messages to the Computer Center using the electronic mail system, Key in CNCMAIL at the OK Prompt, followed by a space and MCCUBBIN, that is, OK, CNCMAIL MCCUBBIN.)

If you want to report a problem with the system it is important that you do so as soon after it occurs as possible. Thank you in advance for your time in this regard.

ELDERLEARNING SOCIETY REGISTRATION UNDERWAY AT CNC

Registration for the Christopher Newport College ElderLearning Society's fall semester is underway, with classes beginning Sept. 10.

The ElderLearning Society is a membership organization dedicated to people of retirement age who seek opportunities for learning in an environment of sharing and fellowship. The society is managed for and by its members.

Through a variety of activities, including lectures, courses and field trips, persons of diverse backgrounds come together to share a common interest in learning.

Admission to CNC is not required and no previous educational requirements exist. All retirement-age people are welcome if they are interested in being challenged by new ideas.

The cost of the program is $50, which may be waived for economic reasons. For more information, or to register, call the ElderLearning Society at 594-7568.
