NOTICE

Buildings and Grounds

Over the last few weeks our crews have found coffee pots and electric heaters that have been left plugged in after everyone has left for the day.

It should go without saying that this situation creates a serious fire hazzard. Liability responsibility could be placed on the individual concerned should there be a fire caused in this way.

Request that each Department, Section or Office select a person responsible to double check on these appliances before leaving area.

Your cooperation could save us a building.
