News and General Information

Cards for IBM Copier

A recent survey was made to verify proper account codes assigned to the Auditizer cards on the IBM copier located in the Smith Building. An effort was made to contact each account manager for card verification. If not verified, the card numbers were voided in the machine.

If you were not contacted during the survey, you may have a card which is no longer valid. Please stop by the Purchasing Office if you have a problem and a new card will be issued.

Pulitzer Prize Winner on Campus

Christopher Newport College will present Pulitzer Prize winner Henry Taylor reading his poems on Wednesday, April 1, at 7:30 P.M. in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center.

Mr. Taylor published two collections of poems--The Horse Show at Midnight and An Afternoon of Pocket Billiards--before his Prize-winning volume, The Flying Change (Louisiana State University Press, 1985). "With this wonderful book," one critic has said, "Henry Taylor takes his earned place among our finest living poets."

A resident of Lincoln, Virginia (in Loudoun County), Mr. Taylor is professor of literature at American University. He won the Witter Bynner Foundation Poetry Prize in 1984.

There will be no admission charge for the reading, which is partially funded by the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts.

Jill Vaden Assists in Public Relations

Jill Vaden, former staff writer for the Daily Press and Times-Herald and former news editor of several daily papers, will be doing freelancing for Paula Delo this spring. She will be on campus periodically and will be working from her office at WVEC in Hampton.

She has received many special assignments and has started phoning for interviews and appointments. When she phones, please remember that she is a part of our CNC team, and as such needs your consideration and your excellent cooperation. Remember that she does not know our college well, so she may need some special explanations until she becomes familiar with our work.

I am sure you will appreciate this talented young woman. She is intelligent, energetic and deeply committed to advancing the College in the community and in the state.

Jill can be reached through my office, ext. 7039.

-- Paula Delo, Director of Public Relations

CNC Theatre Production

The CNC Theatre presents for its spring production Brandon Thomas' most popular farce "Charley's Aunt." Performances are scheduled for Friday, March 27, Saturday, March 28 and Friday, April 3. Curtain time is 8:00 PM. There will not be a fourth performance on campus on Saturday, April 4. That evening the production will be shown at the Hellenic Community Center in celebration of CNC's 25th Anniversary. CNC students, faculty and staff are offered two tickets for the price of one ($5).

For reservations call 599-7089.

CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT COLLEGE DIRECTOR OF STUDENT DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Student Affairs is seeking a Director for the newly created Office of Student Development. The Director of Student Development will provide overall coordination of programs of academic support with Vice President for Student Affairs, Admissions, Registrar, Financial Aid, Career Planning and Placement, Student Life, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Academic Deans, Department Chairs, Faculty, Institutional Research and Computer Science. The Director will initiate programs of research to develop a better understanding of the student body, including why students come to CNC, who our students are, what makes students successful and why some choose not to continue their education at CNC.

The Director of Student Development will oversee the counseling functions of the College, to include testing (CLEP, placement, career, etc.), and counseling (personal, career, academic, and crisis counseling). This individual will support academic advising -- to include coordination of freshmen advising -- and oversee the computerization of advising services. The Director will administer and coordinate the College Transition Project and the Funds for Excellence Subprogram called "Connections." Research of the student body, particularly to acquire an understanding of those issues related to student development and retention, will be the responsibility of the Director of Student Development. A freshman course, with goals similar to a "University 101" course will be developed and possibly taught by the Director of Student Development.

Qualifications: Candidates should possess at least a master's degree in a helping profession, experience in counseling, demonstrated ability to apply knowledge of human development, demonstrated organizational skills, knowledge of computers...hardware, software and at least one computer language, significant experience in a higher education setting with some portion as an instructor, a demonstrated ability to write proposals for, and obtain, grant funding, a demonstrated ability to assess, develop, and implement programs to enhance student development, a working knowledge of student learning as a developmental process, and, working knowledge of basic research skills.

This is an administrative position with twelve month contract. Faculty rank and salary commensurate with experience and qualifications. This position is available immediately and will be filled as quickly as possible. Candidate should be prepared to meet with the Search Committee as early as March 30, 1987. Send letter of application and résumé to:

Keith F. McLoughland
Chairman, Student Development Search

Application must be received no later than 4:00 p.m., March 27, 1987.
