FACULTY/STAFF ACTIVITIES

Dr. Alphonso Ogbuehi, associate professor of marketing, had his article entitled, "Ethics and Transnational Corporations in Developing Countries: A Social Contract Perspective" published in the Journal of Euromarketing, Vol. 4, No. 2, 1995, pp.11-38. This article was also concurrently published in Ethical Issues in International Marketing, Nejdett Delener, editor, New York, NY: The Haworth Press, Inc., 1995, pp.11-38.

Dr. Stuart Cottrell, of LSPE, while traveling in Europe earlier this summer, attended the Graduation Ceremony of WICE, an international curriculum in Leisure Studies sponsored by the World Leisure and Recreation Association (WLRA) and the Christelijke Hogeschool Noord-Nederland. The commencement took place June 23, 1995 in Leeuwarden, The Netherlands. The aim of WICE, created in 1990, is to offer advanced study in leisure related subjects from all regions of the world. Dr. Cottrell has been an avid member of WLRA since receiving the WLRA scholarship to attend an international conference on Leisure and Recreation held in Lisbon, Portugal, in Summer 1992.

Dr. John Anderson, professor of management, recently participated in the Golden Olympics at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, taking several awards.

Congratulations, Dr. Anderson!

The Golden Olympics of Virginia is open to all residents of Virginia 55 years or older. The event allows seniors to display their athletic ability, and to exchange and share common ties and interests with other individuals throughout the Commonwealth.

Dr. Belle Pendleton, assistant professor of arts and communication, presented a paper entitled "The Capital of the Confederacy and the Iconography of the Lost Cause: A Woman's Place" at two conferences, the Interdisciplinary 19th-Century Studies Annual Conference and the Southeastern 19th-Century Studies Annual Conference, both in April 1995. She will give the keynote address at a symposium on the arts and crafts movement at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in November 1995. The symposium complements the exhibition, "Head, Heart, and Hand: Elbert Hubbard and the Roycrofters" on display at the VMFA, Nov. 16, 1995-Jan. 7, 1996.

DEAN'S COLLOQUIA PRESENTATIONS -

Presenting the inaugural lecture in the 1995-96 Dean William Parks Memorial Colliquia Series will be Dr. Douglas Gordon, Professor of English, on Wednesday, Sept. 20 at 12 p.m. in Campus Center 150. The topic of his lecture is "Furry Four-legged Prophets of Doom and Redemption: Tracking the Canine Icon in a Decade of Dog Films, 1984-1994"

Please urge your students to attend and take the lead in supporting your colleague and the Series by your own attendance.

A luncheon will be held in honor of our speaker at 1 p.m. in the Banquet Room. For reservations, please call 594-7121 by Monday, Sept. 18. The cost is $7.

On Monday, Nov. 13, Dr. William Kilpatrick, Professor of Education at Boston College and the author of the highly acclaimed Why Johnny Can't Tell Right from Wrong: Moral Illiteracy and the Case for Character Education, will present the second lecture in this year's Dean's Colloquia Series. The topic of his talk will be "Multiculturalism and Moral Illiteracy." After his noontime presentation Dr. Kilpatrick will be honored at a luncheon, followed by an open seminar in CC 150 from 2-3 p.m.

Please mark your calendars for this important event on our campus.

DEAN'S COLLOQUIA CALL FOR PAPERS -

The Dean's Colloquia Committee is extending a call for two papers to be presented during the second semester. Topics accepted will be those which are academic in content and suitable for a general audience. This call is for papers from CNU faculty only. Speakers selected will receive an honorarium of $500.

Proposals must be submitted to Dr. James M. Morris by Wed. Oct. 25 at the latest. The committee will make its selections soon thereafter. Please call Dr. Morris at 594-7121 if you have any questions.

A Letter of Thanks from Patrese Hall, Assistant Comptroller, Business Office

I would like to officially thank you for the wonderful farewell party in the Brauer Room. I will cherish my memories at CNU because of so many good people who supported my success and achievements at CNU. I felt very jubilant at my Surprise Reception. The food was delicious (Thank you Business Office Staff) and my gift from you just made it the most special day for me. The Solid Cherry Wood Heritage Westminster Chime Quartz Mantle Clock has the University Seal in the upper center of its face. The Heritage Clock is in my living room on the fireplace mantle. It looks great there. All of you prepared me for my new job at NSU. Thank you very much for all your support.

NOTICE

The thesis by Kain S. Blandford (B.M., Music History, 1994), "The Life and Work of Luther Orlando Emerson (1820-1915)," is now catalogued and available in Smith Library.

This study presents maps, pictorial evidence and programs that document the life of this sacred and secular song composer from Parsonfield, Maine and a cousin of Ralph Waldo Emerson. It also contains discussions of Emerson's philosophy of teaching and a complete list of his compositions.

Grants Opportunity

The Office of Sponsored Programs announces the availability of the 1995 (For Fiscal Year 1996) program guidelines for the FIPSE Comprehensive Program. This program, sponsored by the US Department of Education, Office of Postsecondary Education, The Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education, is annually opened to applications from College and University faculty. FIPSE preliminary applications are easy to do, consist of several pages of description, and a simple budget.

This year's areas of emphasis are:

Access, Retention, and Completion
Education and the Workforce
Improving Campus Climate
Productivity and Restructuring
Improving School College Cooperation
Curriculum reform
Faculty Development
Dissemination of Successful Innovations

The FIPSE comprehensive program is intensely competitive, and preliminary applications are screened further for more detailed submissions in the spring of 1996. The deadline for preliminary proposals is October 18, 1995. Call 4-7266 to get a copy of the guidelines, or E-mail jeagle@powhatan.cc.cnu.edu.

Notice for Potential Applicants to the Eisenhower Mathematics and Science Grant Program:

The program has been renamed: The Dwight D. Eisenhower Professional Development Program, and is authorized by Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, which was re-authorized in 1994 as the Improving America's Schools Act. CNU expects to receive requests for proposals around September 30, 1995. New requirements are inherent to this program cycle:

Institutions of higher education must enter "into an agreement with a local educational agency, or a consortium of such agencies, to provide sustained, high-quality professional development for the elementary and secondary school teachers in the schools of each such agency."

The agreement will be in the form of a memorandum of understanding, signed by the appropriate officials. It should 1) indicate the identified local educational agency's (LEA) teacher professional development need; 2) confirm that the institution of higher education and the local education agency jointly planned the project based on the identified need and will jointly implement the project; and 3) indicate that teachers will definitely participate in the project because it is based on an identified need.

Letters of support are NOT adequate to fulfill this new requirement. Potential proposers for this program should avail themselves of additional guidelines available in the Office of Sponsored Programs if they have not already received them. Call 4-7266, or E-mail jeagle@powhatan.cc.cnu.edu.

Potential Grant/Fellowship Opportunity

Office of Sponsored Programs announces the following excerpted notice in the Federal Register of August 1, 1995. Page 39188]
National Institute of Justice Solicitation "Fellowship Opportunities at the National Institute of Justice"

AGENCY: U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs, National Institute of Justice.
ACTION: Announcement of the availability of the National Institute of Justice Solicitation "Fellowship Opportunities at the National Institute of Justice".

ADDRESS: National Institute of Justice, 633 Indiana Avenue, NW.,
Washington, D.C. 20531.

DATES: The deadlines for receipt of proposals are close of business on September 15, 1995 and April 15, August 15 and December 16, 1996.

This action is authorized under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, Secs. 201-03, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 3721-23 (1988).

Background

The National Institute of Justice is soliciting proposals from criminal justice professionals and scholars to undertake studies as part of NIJ's fellowship programs, which include the Visiting Fellowship Program, the Assistant Attorney General's Graduate Research Fellowship Program, the Graduate Research Fellowships at Historically Black Colleges and Universities, the Graduate Law Enforcement Technology Fellowship, the John B. Pickett Fellowships in Criminal Justice Policy and Management, and the NIJ Internship Program. Interested persons should call the National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS) at 1-800-851-3420 to obtain a copy of "Fellowship Opportunities at the National Institute of Justice" (refer to document No. SL000123). The solicitation is available electronically via the NCJRS Bulletin Board, which can be accessed via Internet. Telnet to ncjrsbbs.aspensys.com, or gopher to ncjrs.aspensys.com 71. Those without Internet access can dial the NCJRS Bulletin Board via modem: dial 301-738-8895. Set modem at 9600 baud, 8-N-1.

Interested faculty members may attempt contact either directly as listed above, or if difficulty is encountered, call 4-7266 for assistance in downloading the complete notice.

Grants Opportunities

The Office of Sponsored Programs announces the availability of the current year's summary program announcement from the US Department of Education. This summary, published in the August 10, 1995 Federal Register, page 40955 and following, contains information on all programs sponsored by the Department of Education, with deadline dates and contact telephone numbers for the appropriate offices. Programs are far too many to summarize economically here. Call us to receive a xerographic copy of the announcement, or if you prefer, we will E-mail it to you. Since the document is 26 pages long please do not ask for it unless you are a serious proposer. Call 4-7266.

Announcement of the William C. Foster Fellows Visiting Scholars Program for the 1996-97 Academic Year

The U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) will conduct a competition to select visiting scholars to serve at the Agency during the 1996-97 academic year. University faculty from a variety of fields are sought, including those in the physical sciences, international relations, economics, engineering, chemistry, biology, mathematics and computer science.

Section 28 of the Arms Control and Disarmament Act (22 U.S.C. 2568), as amended, provides that "a program for visiting scholars in the field of arms control, nonproliferation, and disarmament shall be established by the Director in order to obtain the services of scholars from the faculties of recognized institutions of higher learning." The law states that "the purpose of the program will be to give specialists in the physical sciences and other disciplines relevant to the Agency's activities an opportunity for active participation in the arms control, nonproliferation, and disarmament activities of the Agency and to gain for the Agency the perspective and expertise such persons can offer .

Scholars are known as William C. Foster Fellows, in honor of the first Director of ACDA, who served from 1961 to 1969. ✓

Up to six fellows will be selected in 1996.

Assignments are available in the Bureaus of Strategic and Eurasian Affairs (SEA); Multilateral Affairs (MA); Intelligence, Verification and Information Management (IVI); and Nonproliferation Policy and Regional Arms Control (NP). Visiting scholars participate in a wide range of Agency activities, such as performing arms control research and analyses, evaluating data relating to compliance with treaties in force, supporting interagency development of arms control policy, and taking part in international arms control and disarmament negotiations.

Visiting scholars will be detailed to ACDA by their universities for one full year. The institutions will be compensated for the scholars' salaries and benefits in accordance with the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970 and within Agency budgetary limitations. Each Fellow will receive reimbursement for travel to and from the Washington, D.C. area for his or her one year assignment and either a per diem allowance during the one year detail or relocation costs.

Qualified candidates must be citizens of the United States, on the faculty of a recognized U.S. institution of higher learning, and tenured or on a tenure track. ACDA is an equal opportunity employer. Selections will be made without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or physical disability that does not interfere with performance of duties. Prior to appointment, all candidates will be subject to a full-field background investigation for a top-secret security clearance, as required by Section 45 of the Arms Control and Disarmament Act, as amended.

Visiting scholars will be subject to applicable Federal conflict of interest laws and standards of conduct.

To apply, candidates must submit a letter outlining their interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae, copies of two publications, and optional supporting material such as letters of reference.

Applicants will be evaluated based on their potential to provide expertise or to perform services critical to ACDA's mission. The application deadline for assignments for the 1996-97 academic year is January 31, 1996, subject to extension at the Agency's discretion. ACDA expects to announce tentative selections in June 1996.

For an information brochure, please write to: Foster Fellows Program, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, 320 21st Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20451; or call (703) 302-7714.

Corrections from the August Edition of The Chronicle

Dr. Fabrice E. Lehoucq - Assistant Professor of Government and Public Affairs, has the following announcements to make:

With Professor David Wall, Dr. Fabrice E. Lehoucq was recently informed that their proposed paper, "Legislators, Electoral Incentives and Proportional Representation: the Political Bases Of Public Expenditures in Guatemala," was accepted for presentation at this year's Latin American Studies Association's Meetings in Washington D.C. Dr. Lehoucq traveled to Guatemala in May of this year thanks to a grant from the American Political Science Association to conduct the research for this joint paper.

Dr. Lehoucq has been awarded a Fulbright Fellowship to research and teach in Costa Rica between July and December of this year. Dr. Lehoucq will be affiliated with the University of Costa Rica (San Jose).

Dr. Lehoucq has been awarded a Collaborative Projects Grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (directed with Ivan Molina Jimenez, University of Costa Rica). This grant will furnish two year funding, beginning in January 1996, for research and write-up of a proposed book entitled: "Fraud, Electoral Reform and Democracy: Costa Rica in Comparative Perspective."
