ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dean's Colloquia

The members of the Dean's Colloquia Committee extend their thanks to Sam Bauer for a job well done at the first presentation in the series on October 26. Sam got us off to a solid, professional start. The Committee also thanks the members of the faculty who were in attendance at the lecture, the luncheon, and the seminar for their support. We look forward to even stronger attendance at future sessions.

The second presentation in the series will be held Wednesday, November 9, at noon in the Campus Center Theatre. Mr. J. Wolf Prow, Assistant Professor of Geography, will present a paper entitled "Virginia's Boundaries: Errors of the Past and Problems for the Future." A luncheon in Mr. Prow's honor will follow at 1:00 in the Admiralty Room. An informal seminar for interested students and members of the faculty will be held at 2:00 in the Board Room.

Reservations (at $2/person) must be in to me by Monday, November 7, at noon. Please do not delay as seating is necessarily limited. You may place an envelope in my mailbox with your $2 to assure your place at the luncheon.

Finally, we have just received word that Professor John Blassingame of Yale University has accepted our invitation to visit the campus and address the college community as part of our Visiting Scholars program on February 1, 1978. Dr. Blassingame is undoubtedly one of the leading black historians in the country, and we are delighted that he has accepted our invitation. Please mark this date on your calendar.

Jim Morris, Chairman
Dean's Colloquia Committee

David Beers Quinn to Speak at the Mariner's Museum

On Friday evening, November 18, 1977, at 8:00 P.M. in the Mariner's Museum, Professor David Beers Quinn will address a combined college-public audience on the topic "Thomas Cavendish, Circumnavigator." Professor Quinn's work in the field of discovery and early colonization of North America has been instrumental in renewing interest in the sixteenth century exploration of this continent. All interested faculty are invited to attend this free public lecture. For further information contact Tim Morgan at 7121 or 596-5208.

Registration Procedures

Studies of our registration procedures have been undertaken with the view of developing plans that might alleviate some of the problems that we are beginning to encounter with our continued growth. Each department was requested to identify problems encountered during recent registration cycles.

Involved administrative department heads met November 3 for the purpose of correlating their responsibilities and concerns in the registration process. A report to the faculty will follow.

Studies have also been undertaken to make certain that we are attaining maximum space utilization of classroom facilities.

NOTICES

On November 15 at 12:15 - 1:00 in the Board Room (CC214) there will be a presentation and discussion of epilepsy, information and misinformation about the disorder. This program is open to all administration, faculty, staff and students. Bring your own lunch!
