

The Captain's Log

Volume XI, Number 21

Christopher Newport College

Newport News, Virginia March 13, 1980

Seniors to receive preference in early registration for fall

by Judith Hrul

As a result of many complaints regarding the early registration process last fall, Registrar John McCaughey and three members of the Student Association have devised a procedure which they hope will not only facilitate early registration, but also eliminate long lines and other complications.

For the first time, seniors will be given preference and permitted to register before any other students. Seniors have been defined as students who will have completed 85 hours or more by the end of this semester. Seniors only will be permitted to register on April 17 and 18 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. in the Campus Center Admiralty Lounge. All students who qualify will receive special permits for this purpose with their registration forms. It is hoped that this procedure will assure that seniors will be able to register without complications for classes they need to fulfill graduation requirements. Seniors who do not take advantage of these two days must follow the same procedures as other students.

After having their registration forms signed by their advisors, all students registering for seven or more credit hours will pick up appointment cards at the information desk in the Campus Center. Students may select the time and day during early registration week when it is convenient for them to register. If appointments for that time period have been depleted, another time must be selected. Students may only register at the time shown on their appointment card. Only one student per card may register and forms from other students may not be presented. Early registration for students other than seniors will be the week of April 21. Friday, April 25, will be an open day; that is, students will be permitted to register that day without appointments.

Details concerning these registration procedures will be mailed to students with their registration forms. Copies of Registration News will be available on campus by April 7 to allow students time to see an advisor before early registration begins.

Snow days won't affect spring break

by Kim Fizer

Those motel and plane reservations for spring break vacations won't have to be canceled or rescheduled in order to make up classes missed March 3 and 4 because of the last snowstorm. Dr. Robert Edwards, Vice President for Academic Affairs, has decided that only the Monday night classes are to be made up by adding 15 minutes to the regular class length and retaining the regular break time in class.

Dr. Edwards explains that the semester cannot be extended due to the fact that the graduation date is booked in advance for the Hampton Coliseum and cannot be changed. On the other hand, a shortened spring break would conflict with students' plans for that week. As for the Monday and Tuesday classes, "The professors are asked to make up those days the best way possible." This allows professors to decide what can be eliminated from their syllabuses to shorten the course.

Spring break will start at the end of classes on Saturday, March 15. Classes will resume at 8:00 a.m. on Monday, March 24.

Colloquium speaker will address human rights

W. Beverly Carter, Jr., Ambassador-at-Large for the State Department and head of the Office for Liaison with State and Local Governments, will present the fifth program in the Dean William Parks Memorial Colloquium Series on Monday, March 24, at 12 noon in the Campus Center Theatre. Mr. Carter will speak on "Human Rights in the Third World: A Multi-Cultural View."

Prior to his present assignment, Ambassador Carter served as U.S. envoy to Liberia, Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary for African Affairs, Ambassador to Tanzania, and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. He has also served in Nigeria and Kenya, and has been a member of the U.N.S. Subcommittee on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities.

Before joining the State Department in 1965, Ambassador Carter was a reporter, editor, and publisher. He was born in Coatesville, Pennsylvania, and grew up in Philadelphia. He was educated at Lincoln University (Pa.), Temple University Law School, and the New School for Social Research in New York City. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, the NAACP, the Urban League, and the Cosmos Club of Washington. His honors include election to the Alpha Boule of Sigma Pi Phi, the national achievement fraternity, and the Order of African Redemption, Liberia's highest civilian decoration.

Ambassador Beverly Carter, Jr.

Dr. Jay Paul will present poetry and prose reading

Jay S. Paul, Assistant Professor of English at CNC, will present a reading of his poetry and prose on Wednesday, March 26, at noon in the Campus Center Theatre. The reading will be the sixth program in the Dean William Parks Memorial Colloquium Series.

Dr. Paul grew up in upstate New York, earned his B.A. at Hartwick College, and took his M.A. and Ph.D. at Michigan State University. He has taught at Michigan State, Northern Illinois University, and Illinois State, and has been at CNC since 1978. He has published more than 100 poems in journals across the country, ranging from the Mississippi Valley Review to Anglican Theological Review. He has recently branched into fiction writing, and two of his stories have already been accepted for publication.

Dr. Jay S. Paul

The reading is open to the public. A luncheon honoring Dr. Paul will follow.

(photo by Bruce Laubach)

Dr. Spencer Wise of the Biology Department was honored at a dinner March 7 at the Hotel Chamberlin's Rooftop Garden. He will retire at the end of this semester. Dave Vodvarka, President of the Biology Club, presented Dr. Wise a dissecting microscope in appreciation of his many years as a professor and friend of CNC students, as Mrs. Wise looked on.

Dr. Anderson establishes reading file

by Patti Leach

Dr. John Anderson, President of CNC, has established a reading file in the Captain John Smith Library containing the weekly administrative correspondence of the campus.

Organized in folders by weekly content, the files are open to any student, faculty, or staff member for review and can be obtained at the main desk. They may not be checked out of the library.

Dr. Anderson feels that the existence of these files will encourage more participation in the college's activities and enlighten students, faculty, and administration as to the types of problems handled daily.

Dr. Anderson commented that the file should help to increase communication and understanding at CNC.

Campus Close-Up

Information for Campus Close-up must be submitted by 10 a.m. on the Monday preceding the next scheduled issue of the Captain's Log. Any notices received after that will be printed only if space and time permit.

All other articles and letters to the Editor must be submitted by 4 p.m. the same day.

Financial aid deadline Mar. 15

Students are reminded that the deadline for filing Financial Aid Forms (FAF) for the current school year is March 15, 1980. The FAF is used to determine eligibility for Basic Grants as well as other Federal, State, and Local Financial Aid Programs. In order for your FAF to be processed, it must be postmarked not later than March 15, 1980.

The necessary forms are available in the Financial Aid Office in Room 121 of the Library.

'Helmsmen' needs staff

The Helmsman, CNC's new yearbook, is looking for a few good people. The staff needs volunteers to help in layout, writing, and editing. No previous experience is necessary.

Interested persons may contact Ann Stafford in room 206 of the Campus Center for further information. We need your help to make the yearbook a success.

Philosophy Club to discuss art

The Philosophy Club will meet March 24 in the board room. John Hoaglund and John Harwood will discuss the degeneration of art to pornography. Coffee and donuts will be provided.

Sociol./Soc. Club to meet

The Sociology-Social Work Club will meet on Friday, March 14, at 12:00 in N-119. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Cont. Studies offers workshop

The Continuing Studies Office at CNC is offering a series of breakfast workshops on questionnaire construction for personal, mail, and telephone surveys on Wednesdays, 6:45-8:45 a.m., in the Campus Center Admiralty Room.

Designed to teach participants to determine questionnaire objectives and devise effective methods for soliciting cooperation of respondents, the workshops will be taught by Dr. Robert Coker, chairman of CNC's Department of Marketing and Management.

For additional details, call 599-7045.

'Currents' deadline is Mar. 17

The deadline for submission of work to Currents for the Spring '80 issue is March 17. Work can be submitted to the Currents office, Campus Center, Room 203.

Senior Caucus rescheduled

The Senior Caucus, cancelled on March 4 due to snow, will be held on March 25 at 12:15 in the Admiralty Lounge.

Local registration procedures listed

The following information is offered for those students, faculty, and staff who wish to register to vote:

Any resident who will be 18 on or before the date of the election is eligible to vote. There is no residency requirement. However, an individual must be registered 30 days prior to the election. If an individual has moved within his present community since the last election, he/she must notify the Registrar of the change of address. If an individual is a new resident of the city/town/county, he must register. There are no time requirements.

In Hampton, potential voters may register at the Courthouse, 101 Kings Way Mall, 1st floor, 8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. For further information, call 727-6218.

In Newport News, registration takes place on the 4th floor of City Hall, 2400 Washington Avenue, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Call 247-8631 for more information.

Poquoson residents may register on the 1st floor of City Hall, Poquoson Avenue, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Tuesdays only. The phone number is 668-7151.

In York County, call 898-0144 or 989-3434. Registration is accomplished at the Courthouse, corner of Main & Ballard, in the basement, 9 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

First steam-powered naval vessel profiled in colloquium program

by Kim Fizer

On Thursday, February 28, as part of the Dean William Parks Colloquia Series, Dr. James Morris, Professor of History at CNC, spoke on the development of steam-powered ships in the U.S. Navy, specifically the U.S.S. Michigan.

Although not the first steam-powered vessel built in the U.S., the Michigan was the first naval vessel of iron operating on steam, as well as the first American ship to sail on the Great Lakes to guard the U.S. frontier. Because of a U.S. treaty with Canada, the Michigan was not equipped with armor. Instead, pipes containing the steam necessary to propel the ship were exposed on deck to repel any attempts at boarding her during attack. Although the Michigan was a steam powered ship, she was equipped with sails until 1910.

In 1849, Benjamin Franklin Isherwood, a chief engineer of the Navy, conducted controversial experiments on the Michigan. These experiments greatly advanced the knowledge and technology of steam-powered ships.

The Michigan served the Navy for 80 years without an accident or breakdown when, on August 12, 1923, a piston broke, forcing retirement of the ship from service. In 1927, the ship was loaned to Erie, Pennsylvania. By 1947, the ship had sunk in Misery Bay, but her bow remains in Erie as a reminder of a ship which exceeded all creative intentions and which served the Navy for many decades.

Career Planning & Placement

The Richmond Professional Chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists/Sigma Delta Chi is sponsoring the 1980 Virginia Journalism Scholarship Program.

Eligible for a Virginia journalism scholarship is any rising junior, senior, or graduate students at any Virginia four-year college or university who is seriously planning a career in journalism. The applicant need not be seeking a journalism degree.

Applications must be received by the scholarship committee no later than April 1, 1980. For further information contact the Placement Office, CC-208.

The Virginia Association of Assessing Officers is sponsoring the VAAO Scholarship Program. This program is designed to assist persons, particularly of college age, entering the assessment profession through their attendance at the Virginia Department of Taxation 1980 Advanced Assessor's School. The School will be held June 2-8 at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville.

Applicants must meet three basic requirements: (1) be a resident of the Commonwealth of Virginia; (2) be a college student, college graduate, accepted candidate for the college, or the equivalent; and (3) be interested in the assessment profession. An adequate background in mathematics and economics is helpful and desirable.

Completed applications must be submitted by April 15. For further information contact the Placement Office.

A representative from the Federal Aviation Agency will be in the hallway of the Campus Center on Monday, March 24, starting at 10 a.m. to talk to seniors interested in positions for Air Traffic Controllers. Applications to take the exam for Air Traffic Controller are being accepted from March 17 through April 30.

"How Viable are Liberal Arts Degrees?" by Andrew Baggs, Associate Professor of Political Science, Western Carolina University. Taken from the Winter 1980 issue of the Journal of College Placement.

"The question frequently asked of academic advisors by students in various stages of their college careers is 'What can I do with a degree in liberal arts?'

Students may be ready to select their majors but might have heard that there are no jobs for liberal arts graduates.

"In July, 1978, surveys were mailed to alumni [of Western Carolina University] in an attempt to determine if they had jobs; if so, what kind; the relationship between employment and their undergraduate studies; and whether they had obtained additional schooling. What was considered to be the main question was an open-ended one asking for suggestions for changing or improving the liberal arts and/or the political science curriculum.

"Political science graduates tend to move about and go into a number of diverse occupations. . . [such as] ministers . . . writers . . . and public relations . . . "Of no surprise was the fact that the largest single occupation is the legal profession (20.6 percent). . .

"The service trades are a close second . . . This catch-all category included such persons as computer operators, owner-managers of groceries and flower shops, self employed writers. Administrators are the third largest category. . . The only other major group are salespeople . . . A number are in insurance, several are in sales areas for cars, pumps, and steel. Curiously, some of the most positive responses came from salespeople (satisfaction with both job and education) and, conversely, some of the more negative responses.

Government is the largest employer of . . . political science alumni . . . specifically, county and state governments. Most . . . in the public sector are in administrative capacities and a number of highly positive responses were from them."

Recruiting Schedule:

3/24 - Computer Sciences Corporation, information science, math, computer science majors for computer programmers; 3/26 - Pilot Life Insurance Co., all majors for sales; ITT Gwaltney, Marketing majors for sales, information science for data processing, and accounting for accountants; 3/26-27 - U.S. Marine Corps, all majors; 3/27 - University of Virginia, Information Science for computer programming, biology and chemistry for lab technicians.

4/1 - Xerox, all majors for sales.

Executive Council

by James S. Powell

At the March 6 meeting, the Executive Council considered the future of The Helmsman, CNC's yearbook. The yearbook seems to be having two problems: understaffing and lack of sales. The Student Association encourages all students who are able to help with The Helmsman to contact the staff.

A second item of business was the amendment of the SA Constitution. Specifically, Article 8, Sec. 2, Par. 3 will be amended as follows: "At the discretion of the Executive Council, the budget process can be removed from the committee and brought directly to the full Board of the Executive Council." The committee referred to is the Student Activity Committee which is responsible for approving the budget of the various clubs and organizations on campus. This item was automatically tabled.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to a review of decisions emanating from the Board of Visitors meeting. The items discussed were the approval of the Director of Student Life position; the feeling of the Board that for every book which is required for a course at CNC, a copy should be available at the library; the imposition of a $10.00 fee for late payments on those students paying tuition on the deferred payment plan and pulling the student's transcripts after seven days of negligence, effective with the fall semester.

features

Editor predicts new yearbook "... is going to be good"

by Patricia Earls

"The Helmsman is going to be good," says Ann Stafford, editor of the new yearbook. It will contain, candid photos, club photos, and pictures of all the important events that have happened since The Trident, CNC's first yearbook, which folded in 1971. It will be chock-full of CNC students, faculty, and staff, both past and present. All of these memories will be available for the price of $10.00. With the enthusiasm that the staff has it is hard to imagine that the yearbook will be anything less than great. But it might be.

The yearbook can fail if it doesn't sell. According to Registrar John McCaughey, advisor to the yearbook staff, CNC has contracted to buy 500 copies. If the advanced sales are not successful, then CNC will be forced to absorb the cost. The money will probably come out of the students' pockets in the form of an additional comprehensive fee. Since costs for the yearbook run in the ballpark of $8,000.00, that would be a sizeable addition to the comprehensive fee.

The skepticism of the new yearbook may be due to the fact that one has not existed since 1971. CNC was a fledgling then. The failure of The Trident is no harbinger for The Helmsman. McCaughey attributes this failure to the fact that a chewing gum, Trident, came out after the old yearbook had been named. "We can't help that they named a chewing gum after our yearbook." This apparently made the yearbook the brunt of many jokes and as a result, the students did not take the yearbook seriously. The Helmsman is changing that image.

The staff itself is what makes the new yearbook a success. They are a hardworking, cohesive team. All come well-experienced in their fields, from editorial positions at both the high school and college levels.

There is still room for interested students to work on the yearbook and the staff has opened itself to suggestions. The yearbook is the students' book; it can't function without them.

Contarino honored as one of top cadets

Joseph Contarino III of Newport News has been named the winner from Christopher Newport College of the George C. Marshall ROTC Award, jointly sponsored by the U.S. Army and the George C. Marshall Research Foundation, Lexington, Virginia. Contarino is the commander of the ROTC Cadet Battalion at CNC.

The George C. Marshall ROTC Award is named in remembrance of the distinguished role General Marshall played as Army Chief of Staff, Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize (1953). The award, first established in November of 1976, is presented to the outstanding senior cadet in each of the 279 college and university Army ROTC detachments across the country recognizing their leadership and academic excellence in military studies.

Contarino will receive a special certificate of achievement and the authorized Marshall biography by Dr. Forrest C.

(Continued on p. 8)

(photo by Carl Hicks)

Artist Lisa Whitaker, Dr. David Alexis, and Ms. Betty Anglin admire one of Lisa's sculptures.

CNC art students provide library cost-free decor

by Patricia Earls

The Captain John Smith Library is displaying a unique collection of art for the month of March, featuring sculptures and paintings by CNC art students. Among those whose works are included in the display are Lisa Whitaker, David Roach, Beth Johnson, and Susan Turner. Working together with Dr. David Alexis, Betty Anglin, and Librarian Margaret Stewart, they are providing the library a no-cost, quality art exhibit.

With budgets so tight that everyone is complaining, extra money for art in the library would not come easily. The library needed something, so they called on the art department and offered the students a place to display their work. According to Dr. Alexis, it is a "living, symbiotic relation between two bodies on the campus." The students have their art exposed to the public and the public is exposed to local talent.

The pieces are located on the shelves in the reading room and periodicals room, and on the walls in some offices. The art department invites everyone to visit the library display, as well as the studio in Gosnold Hall to view pieces that were too large to move to the library.

Precision Haircut, including shampoo and blow dry styling for men and women... Just $9.90

Edie Adams
Cut. Curl. BEAUTY SALONS

Hours: 9-6 Daily, Thurs. 9-9 P.M. Open 6 Days

840 J. CLYDE MORRIS BLVD.

Newport Square Shopping Center
(On road to Yorktown at I-64 crossing)

Phone 596-7072

14335 WARWICK BLVD.

Warwick-Denbigh Shopping Center

Phone 874-1044

(photo by Carl Hicks)

CNC art student David Roach poses beside one of his works currently on display in the Captain John Smith Library.

entertainment

cinema scope

Sound Solution

by Elena Watson

Chapter Two is a pleasant new romantic comedy by Neil Simon. It is based on his play of the same name, which is supposedly the story of his real-life second marriage to actress Marsha Mason, who stars in the film.

The story concerns George (James Caan), a recently widowed writer who is still depressed about his wife's death. His brother Leo (Joseph Bologna) fixes him up with a recent divorcee, Jenny (Marsha Mason), in an effort to cheer him. After a few amusing phone conversations, the two decide to meet. And after a whirlwind courtship, they marry, in despite the concerns of their family and friends.

Unfortunately, all is not well, for after the honeymoon George once again becomes depressed over his deceased wife. Jenny tries to be understanding, and eventually love wins out.

The dialogue is basic Simon, with a lot of witty repartee. This fact is even somewhat kidded in the script. But the light romantic tone breaks down when George becomes depressed, and more realistic emotions surface.

A subplot in the film concerns George's brother Leo and Jenny friend Fay, who together attempt an affair. They are a pessimistic variation of George and Jenny.

In spite of the slow start, things liven up when George and Jenny meet. The best and most lively parts of the film are when they are dating.

Caan gives an understated, subtle performance as George, the widower; but the bereavement which he portrays does make him seem even more understated, and at times morose.

Mason, on the other hand, is cute and perky, and one can see why the depressed George would be immediately drawn to her. She gives another delightful performance, comparable to that in The Goodbye Girl.

Basically, this is an enjoyable comedy, in spite of the theme of death, which is never very seriously or completely dealt with. There is also a preachy quality near the end of the film. But one forgives Simon for this because of the delightfulness of most of the movie.

Chapter Two is a charming, romantic comedy which serves as the kind of light entertainment for which Simon is known.

It is rated PG and is playing at the Coliseum Mall Theatre.

by Rick Dunn

London Calling is the latest offering from the Clash. Not only is it their best album, the double LP is easily the most exciting piece of rock and roll to come out this year.

The first two Clash albums dripped with an anger that was relevant in the British social climate but alien to American audiences. On London Calling, the band was tempered its rage somewhat, creating a work that is sheer fun to listen to.

The Clash is a musical sponge that has soaked up every influence floating through rock music today. It's all here—slashing New Wave, Fifties' bop, and Jamaican reggae. They effortlessly shift between each genre without losing an ounce of credibility.

The biting wit of the lyrics is at odds with the upbeat veneer of the music itself. Despite their punk roots, these guys are accomplished musicians. Still, the rough production makes this stuff less than palatable for mass consumption. And Joe Strummer's voice is one of those things you never get used to.

(Continued on p. 8)

'A Funny Thing...' hits the mark

by Ana Kimball

There are several proud people walking around CNC these days. The pride shows on the faces of Dr. Bruno Koch, Skelly Warren, members of the cast, managers, technical help, and everyone else involved in the production of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

The play, possibly the most successful CNC's Theatre has ever presented, was hysteria in the finest form. It was non-stop, farcical action. The overall performance of the cast was quite impressive. Individually, each cast member exhibited not only acting talent, but musical ability as well.

As Pseudolus, William Curby never let the action stop. His constant scheming and crazy explanations left the audience roaring. His presence was felt even when he was not on stage. David Scoggins complemented Curby's talent by acting out the name of his character, Hysterium—so appropriately given. Marsha Odom and David Reynolds were believable as the young, love-struck virgins struggling against the odds to be together. As Senex, David Rollins exhibited the professionalism he has acquired from his past experiences. Wayne MacDonald did an excellent job portraying the "world's first" male chauvinist pig, Captain Miles Gloriosus. Kathy Stubbs was successful in portraying the domineering, bitchy Domina, wife to Senex. She even let herself succumb to wiles of Gloriosus.

(photo by Bruce Laubach)

Laughs abounded last weekend in the CNC Theatre production of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

The CNC Theatre should be proud of their performance. The hard work and dedication did pay off with large audiences and favorable responses. However, the audience reaped the largest reward; two hours of escape and sheer enjoyment.

The Subway station

featuring...

Submarines
at their absolute best

FREE LARGE DRINK
with purchase of any whole sub

with this coupon

VANCOSTA'S
Italian & Grecian cuisine par excellence

Homemade: Lasagna - Spaghetti - Veal -
Moussaka - Grecian Salads - Subs - Pizza &
All Sandwiches

Excellent Atmosphere - Very low prices - Beer and Wine

Large Pizza $1 off	Daily Luncheon Specials Good through May 15 with this coupon 50c off
-------------------------------	--

Visit us for lunch or any time for relaxation and fellowship

14745 Warwick Blvd.
Dunbligh, N.N., Va.
[across from K-Mart]

Open 6:45 a.m. daily
Closed Mondays

3830 Kecoughtan Rd.
Hampton, Va.

sports

CNC takes 4th in regionals; receives bid for nationals

by David Bean

CNC's Lady Captains went to the regional tournament in Maryville, Tenn., last Thursday (March 6) evening against Methodist College of North Carolina.

The first half was somewhat slow and cautious, but as the game progressed, the Lady Captains began to assert themselves on the court. At the end of the first half, CNC was on top, 48-31. Patty Kelliher contributed 20 of those points, Linda Richardson, 18.

The second half was a different story; Methodist picked itself up and carried the fight to CNC. As the game wore on, Methodist cut CNC's lead down, bit by bit. With 9:50 left in the second half, CNC was up by 12 points, 70-58. In a matter of four or five minutes, that lead was cut to seven points. Towards the end of the game, Methodist had tied the game at 80-80. With ten seconds left, CNC managed to take an 82-80 lead, but Methodist brought the ball down court, found an open spot, and sent the game into overtime.

Early in the overtime, CNC jumped on a few mental mistakes made by Methodist, taking a 91-84 lead. Linda Richardson fouled out, placing CNC in a strange situation: with Methodist pressing to make the game go into double overtime, who would go in to fill Linda's spot. At the 2:45 mark of the overtime, GKi Johnson was fouled. Since both teams were in the bonus situation, she shot a one and one, made both of them, and put the game away, as the Lady Captains won the first game in overtime, 95-86.

The second game pitted CNC against Lee College of Tennessee. Lee had beaten Bridgewater in the first round. CNC took the first lead of the game and kept it right up to the half, 37-34.

As the second half started, Lee took over the lead and began to use its outside shooting to inflict the damage. The second half was almost a repeat performance of the semi-final game the week before against Bridgewater. Everything that CNC put up went everywhere but in. The 14:02 mark of the second half brought bad news for CNC. Linda Richardson was called for her fifth personal foul. This enraged Coach Lee, who was called for a technical. The incident occurred when Linda left the floor as the referee called the foul. A player is not permitted to leave the floor until her foul has been shot.

Lee stretched the lead to 17 points at its largest, and it was becoming evident that CNC would be on the losing end. With 18 seconds left, Kelliher also fouled out. The last good point for CNC occurred when Jill Willig got her shot off with no time left, cutting the losing margin from 13 to 11 for a score of 78-67. Kelliher had 26 points, Richardson made 17, and Freeman shot 12.

Game three was for third place and a chance for a bid to go to the nationals.

(photo by Bruce Laubach)

CNC's Lady Captains hit the road to Connecticut this week for the National Division III tournament.

Playing in spring-like weather, the Lady Captains got off to a sure but slow start. Both Kelliher and Holloway came through in the half, particularly Holloway, who has not had the best of luck in post-season play. She posted her tournament high with 14 points. At the half, Fisk's Charline Malone hit two shots from far away. The first one didn't count, and the second, which was taken from about half court, with one second showing on the clock, caught nothing but net. CNC's half-time lead was four, with a score of 38-34.

Fisk used the chance it got when CNC didn't get on track at the start of the second half. They quickly got off to a 44-42 lead and fought every inch of the way. It was nip-and-tuck down to the final minute of play, when Fisk began to use its tall personnel to take the lead. The Lady Captains tried to come back, but they ran out of time, losing to Fisk, 85-84. Richardson was the leading scorer with 29 points.

Patty Kelliher's hustling style won her all-regional honors. The Lady Captains have received an at-large bid for the National Division III tournament in Connecticut this week.

Tennis season scheduled to open today

by Johnny Wadd

In April 1976, the CNC men's tennis team traveled to Greensboro, N.C., and won the school's first Dixie Conference championship. Things didn't stop there. The Captain netters went on to repeat their championship in 1977, 1978, and 1979.

Not surprisingly, Coach Bill Pollard has bright hopes for 1980. This year's team includes Taesung Kim, Russ Nevins, Mark Csintyan, and George Koutris, all members of last year's squad. New faces are Jeff Roundtree, Mike Casey, Allan Lamoreaux, and two members of the '76 and '77 championship team, Sean Baier and Larry Shelton.

Preparation for the upcoming season is already underway, with team members practicing from 5:30 to 7:30 a.m. at the indoor courts of the Hampton Roads Racquet Club. Home matches are played on the tennis courts behind the gym.

Intramural action wanes in basketball

by Robert Corbett

Sunday, March 9, was anything but exciting as far as intramural basketball competition was concerned. Five games were scheduled, but four were forfeited. The only game played pitted the DU's against the Tarheels.

The Tarheels led at the end of the first half by a score of 31-28 but a sluggish start in the second half led to their downfall as they lost to DU 66-55.

DU's effort was led by Joe Conway, who hit on 28 points, while Bill Hassenger threw in 19 points. Tim Blowe led the Tarheels with 22 points, and teammate Chuck Forman followed with 19. Blowe shot 100 percent from the field, including ten from the floor and two three-point play conversions.

Current team standings are as follows: DU, 7-0; Blue Devils, 6-1; Bleaps, 5-2; Tarheels, 5-2; Knicks, 4-3; OTHG, 4-4; Bricks, 2-5; Hawks, 2-6; ROTC, 2-5; Kappa Nu #1, 1-6; Kappa Nu #2, 0-8.

Love tap.

From one beer lover to another.

Stroh's

Akers Beverage Co.
4801 Roanoke Ave.
Newport News, Va. 23607
247-6319

MEN'S TENNIS SCHEDULE [Tentative]

March 13	William & Mary	2:00 p.m. - Away
March 14	James Madison	3:00 p.m. - Away
March 17	St. Andrew's	2:30 p.m. - Away
March 18	Methodist	2:00 p.m. - Away
March 23	Loch Haven State	1:00 p.m. - Home
March 26	Virginia Wesleyan	2:00 p.m. - Away
March 28	Randolph-Macon	2:00 p.m. - Home
March 29	Bridgewater College	2:00 p.m. - Home
March 30	Averett College	1:00 p.m. - Home
April 4	George Mason	3:00 p.m. - Away
April 5	Greensboro College	10:00 a.m. - Home
April 7	Virginia Wesleyan	2:00 p.m. - Home
April 11	VMI	2:00 p.m. - Away
April 15	N.C. Wesleyan	2:00 p.m. - Home
April 18	Lynchburg	2:00 p.m. - Away
April 19	UNC-Greensboro	10:00 a.m. - Home
April 21-22

Dixie Conference Tournament at Va. Wesleyan

Campus Cracks

RASPBERRIES

OH TERRIFIC, WOODY! WE'RE OUT IN THE MIDDLE OF NOWHERE WITH A FLAT TIRE AND NO SPARE!

AND THE BIGGEST STORM OF THE SEASON IS BREWING OVERHEAD! WHAT NOW?

OKAY SCOTTY, BEAM US UP!

WELL, IT WAS WORTH A TRY!

©1980 R. DWAN

Classifieds

Classified ads are free to all CNC students. Faculty and Staff. Ads run for four (4) consecutive weeks, unless we are advised otherwise.

ROOMS FOR RENT—for CNC students; male preferred; share 7-room furnished house; hourly bus to CNC (6 1/2 mi.); downtown-try it. Call 596-0364.

PIANO INSTRUCTIONS for Beginner Students (all ages) and "Play by Ear" pianists who want to learn to read music; teacher has previous teaching exp./B.A. in music and ed. almost completed/12 yrs. private piano study; will teach in your home if necessary; for more info., call 247-3290 any evening.

EX LIBRIS LITERARY AGENCY & TYPING SERVICE—827-8491; professional typing of term papers, reports, resumes, manuscripts, etc.; professional marketing, editing, and criticism of manuscripts.

FOR RENT—Four-room apt.; ideal for music, biology or planning major; $100+; hourly bus to CNC; downtown-try it! Call 596-0364.

Room and Board Free to young woman who will take care of my two children (ages 4 and 8) from 4 p.m. until 12 p.m. five nights a week; must be responsible; references preferred; no smoking or drinking; located only 15 minutes from CNC; available in May; call 826-6651.

Temporary Accommodation Needed—21 yrs.; running in "Yorktown Victory Run," Newport News, May 25; would like to stay with local family approx. 4 days. Wrote to Michael Schaffer, 2725 Bedford Rd., #5, Montreal, Quebec, Canada H3S-6Z. Help sincerely needed and appreciated.

Roommate Wanted—to share 2 bedroom apt.; $75 per month; call 245-1443.

ATTENTION STUDENTS

Students interested in part-time or full-time jobs should make appointments in the Office of Career Planning and Placement, CC-208.

PART-TIME JOBS

Bodyrater, Host, Basic Programmer, Service Station Attendant, Waitress, Relief Counselor, Yardwork, Teller, Maintenance, Dormitory Supervisor, Driver/General Helper, Laborer, Bus Driver, Display Designer.

ance, Dormitory Supervisor, Driver/General Helper, Laborer, Bus Driver, Display Designer.

FULL-TIME JOBS

Social Studies Teacher (Government and World Geography), Counselor, General Science Teacher (H.S.), Math/Social Studies Teacher (H.S.), Math Teacher (H.S.), Teacher, Elementary Teachers (K-3 and 4-7), Child Care Attendant, Sales Representative, English Teacher (H.S.), Secretary.

Accountant—bachelors degree in accounting, 2-3 yrs. supervisory experience. Design Draftsman—5 years' drawing board design experience; knowledge of shipboard sonar systems, Mill Standard 100B and DOD Standard 1000B. Programmer Analyst—6 months to 1 year experience programming using IBM 370 series. Accountant—prefer A.A. degree in accounting. Programmer Analyst—B.S. degree in business administration or economics required; some experience in material management of purchasing with proven ability to solve problems. Accountant—B.S. degree in accounting.

On Monday morning, March 10, my car was hit in the parking lot. The driver left no note (hit & run). I would appreciate anyone having any information contacting me, Beth Copeland, at 595-7779.

Calendar of Events

Friday, March 14
"Life as a Feather" (religious singing)	Theatre	Noon-1 p.m.
Curriculum Committee	CC-233	Noon-1 p.m.
ROTC	CC-205	12:30-2:00 p.m.
Christian Science Meeting	CC-207	Noon-1 p.m.
Mass. Mutual Life Ins. Co. Interviews	CC-227	9 a.m.-noon; 1-4 p.m.
AKPsi	N-125	Noon-1 p.m.
Faculty Meeting	N-125	3-5 p.m.
Girls' Tennis	Small Gym	3-5 p.m.
ROTC	Small Gym	Noon-1 p.m.
Pledge Class	Hallway	9 a.m.-1 p.m.
Sociology/Social Work Club	N-119	Noon-1 p.m.
Aerobic Dancing	Large Gym	2-4 p.m.
Saturday, March 15
Vocabulary Development	CC-205	10 a.m.-noon
Karate	Small Gym	10 a.m.-noon
Karate	Large Gym	10 a.m.-1 p.m.
Volleyball Workshop	Large Gym	1-4 p.m.
Sunday, March 16
Student Recital (Dr. Hines)	Theatre	1-6 p.m.
Monday, March 17
Entertainment	Admiralty Room	8-11:30 p.m.
Girls' Tennis	Small Gym	3-5 p.m.
Karate	Small Gym	8-10 p.m.
Volleyball Clinic	Large Gym	7-11 p.m.
Tuesday, March 18
Currents Committee	CC-233	11 a.m.-4 p.m.
Currents Committee	CC-205	1-2 p.m.
Newman Club	CC-207	7:30-9:30 p.m.
Girls' Tennis	Small Gym	3-5 p.m.
Wednesday, March 19
Currents Committee	CC-233	11 a.m.-4 p.m.
TM Program	CC-205	7-10 p.m.
AKA	CC-209	7-9 p.m.
Dr. Coker's Breakfast	Admiralty Room	6:45-8:45 a.m.
Kappa Nu	Admiralty Room	Noon-1 p.m.
French Club Meeting	Admiralty Room	7:30-11 p.m.
Girls' Tennis	Small Gym	3-5 p.m.
Physical Conditioning	Small Gym	12:15-12:45 p.m.
Karate	Small Gym	7-9 p.m.
Thursday, March 20
TM Program	CC-209	7-10 p.m.
Girls' Tennis	Small Gym	3-5 p.m.

TURNSTILE

WHY COULDN'T YOU PAY YOUR RENT? WHAT HAPPENED TO THAT JOB AT THE AD AGENCY?

THE AD AGENCY WENT OUT OF BUSINESS.

AND IT WAS A SHAME, TOO! WE HAD A DARN GOOD TEAM, THERE. WE COULD'VE BEEN ONE OF THE BEST! BUT OUR BIGGEST ACCOUNT WAS A REAL DUD!

WE DID OUR BEST, BUT THERE WAS NO WAY! IT WAS JUST A BAD PRODUCT!

WHAT WAS IT?

"BLATTKREAM" — MADE FROM NAPALM!

OOG! I SEE WHAT YOU MEAN!

"Students Informed"
The peer advising office of
Christopher Newport College

Room 204 • Campus Center
(804) 599-7257

editorial

Letters to the Editor

All letters submitted to the Captain's Log must be signed. Names will be withheld at the discretion of the Editor. Address and phone number is required for file purposes only.

Letters are not edited in any way, but are printed as we receive them. We reserve the right to refrain from printing due to lack of space or failure to meet the deadline.

Letters printed in the Captain's Log should not be construed as representing the views of the staff. We welcome comments, suggestions, and criticism of a constructive nature.

Dear Editor,

I found page seven of your February 28 issue particularly interesting. Your editorial—which was well written—was entitled "Is apathy on the decline?" Yet right beside it was a letter to the editor dealing with the Student Senate where apathy is at its greatest level on this campus. Since becoming Student Senate President, I have never been more gratified and yet totally frustrated in my entire life. On many occasions, I have considered resigning because despite my efforts, I have yet to get students interested in the Senate. Until 3 weeks ago, I had never been more disappointed in any venture I had participated in. Recently, with the help of our Public Relations Committee and especially Darlene Willett, we started a poster campaign to attract students to the Senate.

We were proud to see the results of this campaign as students were beginning to ask about the Senate and attend the meetings. Last week, we had our largest attendance ever and I felt that tide was changing. That's why I was so disturbed to see that some students were upset over our blitz of posters.

The letter I refer to was written by a friend of mine. Greg Jackson is one of the finest people I know here at CNC. However, in his letter, I'm afraid he is missing the whole spirit of the advertising campaign. Please permit me to give some background information.

At the start of the fall semester, we had 23 members in the Senate. The issues, I'll admit, were few and far between, but attendance was still important and part of the responsibility of being a senator. Unfortunately, not everyone felt that way and attendance dwindled. At the beginning of this semester, I was fortunate to have a group of senators who were interested in helping increase the attendance at Senate meetings. Our battle plan was to have a barrage of posters placed in the Campus Center in order to ensure that everyone who walked into the building was aware that there was a senate working for them. I believe we succeeded, because more students were asking about the Senate which please me beyond words.

Additionally, I would be remiss if I didn't mention some interesting facts concerning advertisements. I participated in a survey which asked students about better ways of informing students of campus activities. The overriding response was more posters and better advertising! When planning our campaign, I couldn't keep the results of this survey out of my mind. I was convinced that a giant advertising campaign would help our cause and indeed it did.

In response to some of Greg's comments, I have to say one thing. Personally, I give students credit for more intelligence than Mr. Jackson does. After reading these posters, I'm sure students would realize that the Senate is one place to go for questions and for problems but not the only place to go. However, I do feel that the Senate is, for most students, the best avenue to take because the creation of the Senate was to supply students with a place to have their opinions voiced. In addition, when Greg stated that our poster space was "wasted," I can not think of a more erroneous statement. As I stated earlier, our attendance is finally up due to a great deal of hard work on the part of our Public Relations Committee and their efforts should be highly commended.

I must also comment on another statement that Mr. Jackson made. We, in no way, insinuated that the SA is a "do nothing organization." In point of fact, we are part of the Student Association and we would never infer that we are an inactive organization.

In conclusion, I would like to thank

Greg Jackson for voicing his opinions. However, I do feel that he is missing the spirit of our efforts. I desperately want to see more students take part in all facets of our student government. That includes the Executive Council, the Interclub Council, as well as the Student Senate. These bodies are there for students to voice their opinions and they should not pass up the opportunity to do so. Finally, I want to thank those who continue to attend the Senate meetings and those who worked so hard on our advertising campaign.

I am, as always,
serving students
Frank R. Wilson
President
CNC Student Senate

Editor:

This note is in response to Ms. Anna Paloff's letter appearing in the Captain's Log, February 21, 1980. Ms. Paloff has apparently confused the Computer Center and the Computer Science Department at Christopher Newport College.

The Computer Center is an administrative department supplying services to the College; the Computer Science Department is an academic department. Though the Computer Science Department relies heavily on the Computer Center for services there is no managerial connection between the two. The only direct connection is that the Director of the Computer Center teaches one course, as an adjunct professor, for the Computer Science Department.

To the best of my knowledge the Computer Science Department has not wildly overspent its budget. The Department is, in fact suffering under all the budget cut-backs that are being felt in all departments on campus.

I sincerely hope, in the future, all efforts will be made to see that facts are correct before putting them on paper and publishing them.

Gerald L. Engel
Chairman
Department of Computer Science

Dear Editor:

Regarding your editorial, "Is apathy on the decline?" Who cares?

Sincerely,
Jim Ferrell
Senior, Political Science Dept.

Dear Editor,

This is in reference to your editorial of February 28, 1980. We would like to make it clear that although Kappa Nu may have been a self-appointed booster club, they had extra help from their sister sorority Pi Kappa Sigma.

Although it was only a representative group from Pi Kappa Sigma, we were heard as well. Pi Kappa Sigma was responsible for many of the pep posters, starting the variety of chants, the extraordinary sounds (clanging), and most of all for "Max the Hand" that showed everyone that CNC is number one.

We agree with your point that Kappa Nu is a very school spirited group but let's not forget the women behind the men.

Respectfully yours,
Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority
P.S. Special thanks to Cookie Kimball for obtaining "Max."

Captain's Commentary

The Government Club has prepared the following position report regarding the Summer Olympic Games scheduled for Moscow in July.

by James S. Powell

At the risk of casting a damper on the exuberance of the American public regarding the Olympics, perhaps the time has come for a serious examination of the future of the summer games to be held in Moscow.

In viewing one aspect of this dilemma, a rational observer must give serious thought to the efforts, sacrifices, and intense personal pride of our athletes. These Americans have devoted their lives to the hope of "winning the gold," thereby proving to the world that they are the best in their particular events. For many of these athletes, this is their only viable shot in their respective events because in four years they may not be able to compete as well as they could in their prime. One must remember that in many events, a truly gifted athlete is only at his/her peak for a very short period, perhaps two to three years. Needless to say, President Carter is asking for, and exacting, a very high price from these athletes, who are potential gold medal winners.

Conversely, one must consider the recent activities of the host nation for the Summer Olympics. Is the subjugation of a neighboring country's territory consistent with the principles and ethics of the Olympic spirit? With the recent episode of civil disobedience in Afghanistan, can the rest of the world believe that the USSR was invited to the country by the people? The only other viable alternative which can logically explain the incursion is that the Soviets invaded Afghanistan in the pursuit of self-interest and self-preservation.

If this is indeed the case, then each and every American has the obligation to decide whether or not this activity by the Soviet Union warrants the action indicated by the present administration.

This is a decision which each American must make in the privacy of his/her own thoughts. Before such a decision is rendered, it is hoped—and indeed prerequisite—that one weighs both sides in an equitable manner.

Captain's Log

Editor-in-Chief - Patti Leach

News Editor - Darlene R. Willett

Sports Editor - David Bean

Feature Editor - Patricia Eprls

Entertainment Editor - Ana Kimball

Photography Editor - Bruce Laubach

Typesetting & Graphics - Jeanne Neupert

Business Manager - Robert Corbett

Advertising Manager - Gregg Klich

Mary Lynch - Secretary

Staff: Rick Dunn, Elena Watson, Carl Ricks, Sandra Ripley, James Powell, Judith Hruil, Mickey Boyer,

Sound Solution

(Continued from p. 4)

Listening to his singing, you get the impression that the guy gargles with Drano. His voice is a great tool for reflecting emotion, but Top 40 radio has never been receptive to singers who sound like they eat gravel for breakfast.

The LP kicks off with the title track, a chilling song that paints a dark picture of the near future. It's a little too depressing, a factor which makes it the album's weakest cut. Fortunately, the rest of the record is more upbeat, poking fun at problems instead of crying about them the way "London Calling" does.

The Clash takes lyrical swipes at the plastic world frequently painted by the media on "Lost in the Supermarket" and "Kola Kola." Maybe Strummer can't sing, but he's a brilliantly clever lyricist.

"Death or Glory" is a rocker that brings Mott the Hoople's work to mind. "Revolution Rock" captures faithfully the sound and spirit of reggae. Fifties' rock and roll is represented on "Wrong 'em Boyo," a bouncing number complete with a horn section.

The music on London Calling touches so many bases that I can't possibly list every one. All in all, it's just good, though somewhat ragged, rock and roll. It is the standard against which all potential Springsteens or Costellos will be judged. Best of all, this two-record set only costs about a buck more than a single album!

In vitro lecture set

by Patricia Earls

"Are the in vitro clinic and genetic engineering right?" That is the question to be discussed at a Philosophy Club lecture on March 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room. The lecture will feature Chuck Dean from the Right-to-Life group. This group believes that life begins at conception and that the natural processes should not be tampered with.

There will be a 15-minute presentation of the group's stance; then the floor will be opened to 45 minutes of debate.

Nature and Science Center lines up host of programs and trips for spring

The Peninsula Nature and Science Center has announced its schedule for March. On Saturday, March 15, from 10 a.m. to noon, they will hold a workshop on the construction of sundials. This workshop will attempt to convey a renewed appreciation of the sun. Participants will construct their own sundials, an ancient device that uses no electricity, never has a mechanical malfunction, and is surprisingly accurate.

The workshop is suggested for ages 10 to adult. The fee is $4.00 for members and $6.00 for non-members.

On Sunday, March 23, at 2:30 p.m., the Center will host a special program for hot-air balloon enthusiasts. The program, to include a 45-minute slide show and a brief demonstration, will be presented by the Balloon Club of America South, members of the oldest active balloon club in the United States, the Balloon Club of America. The Balloon Club, under the expert piloting of Mike Patterson, does most of its flying for fun while also taking part in air shows across the U.S. If you would like to find out more about this uplifting hobby, please join them, rain or shine.

The Center plans a safari Saturday, March 29, to Washington, D.C. For this safari, participants have the choice of spending the day visiting museums or going through the National Zoo.

The museums on the Mall include the Air & Space Museum, Hirshhorn and National Galleries of Art, Museum of History and Technology, and the Natural History Museum. At the Zoo, one can see more than 2400 birds, mammals, and reptiles.

Departure from the Center will be at 7:00 a.m. by chartered bus, to return by 9:00 p.m. Children under 18 years must be accompanied by an adult. No stop on the way to Washington, but a dinner stop will be made on the return trip. All meals are the responsibility of participants. Cost is $14 to members and $17 to non-members.

The Center is sponsoring a tour of the Daily Press/Times Herald newspaper offices on Tuesday, April 8. Hear the roar of the printing presses and the hum of reporters busily working at their desks! Participants will be escorted through most of the main areas of the plant, including the newsroom, wire room, news-paper library, composing room, press room, and mail room.

Cost is $1.00 for members, $1.50 for non-members. Car pooling from the Center commences at 1:30 p.m., with return by 3:00 p.m. Children under 10 must be accompanied by an adult.

There will be a tour of the police station on Thursday, April 10, to see how it operates. The group will visit the communications center; see how fingerprints and "mug shots" are taken, and learn the many evidence-gathering techniques of the police.

Cost of the tour is $1.00 for members and $1.50 for non-members. The Safari group will car pool from the Center at 9:45 a.m., with return expected by 11:45. Children under 10 must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information on any of the above workshops and trips, call 695-1900.

Mariners Museum to expand

The Mariners Museum, recognized for housing one of the foremost maritime research collections in the world, will be renovated and enlarged, according to plans for physical expansion announced by the President of the Board of Trustees, George W. Passage, and museum director, William D. Wilkinson.

The expansion will take place during the golden anniversary year of the Mariners Museum. The museum has become international in scope during its 50-year history and currently enjoys a reputation as one of the finest maritime museums in the world.

A new entrance to the library from Museum Drive has been designed to provide for greater accessibility to the facility, which will be enlarged by over 1600 square feet. Additional parking to the west of the building is also planned. Existing space will be redesigned to better accommodate the needs of researchers, with the enlarged reading areas to be equipped with individual study carrels. A new reception area, archival and work areas, and staff offices have also been incorporated into the plan which was designed by Baily and Gardner, Architects, of Orange, Virginia.

The library expansion, a half-million dollar project to be constructed by Ritchie-Curbow of Newport News, will feature a sophisticated climate control system to better protect the museum's priceless collection of books, manuscripts, photographs, ships' logs, ships' papers, charts, and maps. Films of historical significance are also preserved in the facility. Several hundred volumes of newspaper clippings dating from the early 1930's provide information to researchers interested in the history of the area and genealogy.

According to Librarian Ardie Kelly, over 150 scholars utilize the resources during an average month. "We are excited about the new structure and the opportunity it will provide to better preserve current holdings and future acquisitions," he said.

The library will continue to operate without charge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday throughout the renovation, although portions of the collection may be unavailable at certain times during the 360-day construction period. Information regarding accessibility will be available from the library staff.

Cadet honored

(Continued from p. 3)

Pogue from the Foundation. He will also attend a conference on national security issues in Lexington, Virginia, April 17-19, sponsored by the Marshall Foundation and participate in roundtable discussions led by outstanding military and civilian authorities.

The George C. Marshall Research Foundation has its headquarters adjacent to campuses of the Virginia Military Institute, Marshall's alma mater, and another historic Virginia College, Washington and Lee University. Both institutions are supporting the Foundation in holding the conference.

Tell our advertisers you saw it in

The Captain's Log

Tentative Track & Field Schedule

March 8	St. Andrews, Methodist, Averett, N.C. Wesleyan	Newport News - 1 p.m.
15	Hampton Institute Relays	Hampton - 9:30 a.m.
18	Hampton Institute	Hampton - 1 p.m.
22	Salisbury State College	Salisbury, Md. - 2 p.m.
25	Hampton Institute	Hampton - 1 p.m.
29	Bridgewater College	Bridgewater, Va. - 2 p.m.
April 1	Washington & Lee Univ.	Lexington - 3 p.m.
4/5	Davidson Relays	Davidson, N.C.
9	Lynchburg College	Lynchburg - 3 p.m.
	Emory & Henry College
12	Colonial Relays	Williamsburg - a.m./p.m.
19	St. Andrews Invitational	Laurinburg, N.C. - 1 p.m.
22	State College Meet	Richmond
28	DIAC Championship	Todd Stadium

March Library Calendar

Normal hours unless otherwise indicated:

Mon. - Thurs.

8 a.m.-10:30 p.m.

Fri. 8 a.m.-4:45 p.m.

Sat. 12 noon-3 p.m.

Sun. 1-8 p.m.

Spring Break

March 15-23

Closed March 15

March 17-20

Open 8 a.m.-9 p.m.

March 21

Open 8 a.m.-4:45 p.m.

March 22

Open 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thur	Fri	Sat
						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31					