DEAN'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

Administrative Evaluations

In accord with President Windsor's memorandum of January 16, 1976, I would like to encourage faculty members to pick up evaluation forms and materials in the President's office concerning the evaluations of Dean Polis, Cal Hones, and myself, and in my office concerning the evaluations of Deans McLoughland, Edwards, and Wood. Your participation in these evaluations is sincerely appreciated.

Newport News School Volunteer Program

For the past several years, interested citizens, parents, and non-parents have given freely of their time on a regularly scheduled basis as volunteers in the Newport News public schools. This year, the Newport News School Volunteer Program is trying to identify additional resource people throughout the area who may have a few mornings or afternoons available during the school term and would be willing to share their special skills or knowledge with the children and the young adults in the public schools. Mrs. Marjory D. Schell, Coordinator of Volunteers, has extended a special invitation to Christopher Newport College faculty members to participate in this program. In addition to making contributions in areas of academic specialization, faculty members who have rich travel experiences, hobbies, or other talents are encouraged to share and discuss topics of interest with students in the Newport News school system.

If you are interested in participating in this program, please stop by the Dean's office and fill out one of the forms that Mrs. Schell has furnished to identify your area(s) of interest.

Virginia Social Science Association Meeting

I am pleased to announce that this year's annual meeting of the Virginia Social Science Association will be held at Christopher Newport College on April 2 and 3. In view of the national attention currently being given to experiential learning, open learning, and "non-traditional studies," the topic "Experiential Learning in the Social Sciences" has been selected for this year's paper in the Curriculum and Instruction Session of the conference.

Papers are invited from faculty members who may wish to report on community involvement of non-traditional students, special projects, innovative ways of teaching social sciences, etc. If you are interested in presenting such a report, please send a one-page abstract of your topic by the first of February to:

Mrs. Martha Turnage
Dean of Community Development
J. Sergeant Reynolds Community College
P. O. Box 12084
Richmond, Virginia 23241.

Artmobile Exhibition to be Shown at CNC

The manner in which twelve artists from varying time periods and geographic locations interpreted nature and their environments is the subject of a Virginia Museum Artmobile exhibition currently touring the State. Please invite your students to stop in for a visit.

The exhibition, THE NATURE OF LANDSCAPE, shows how many influences played important roles in the artists' depictions of landscapes and seascapes. All of the paintings in the exhibition are on loan from the permanent collection of the Virginia Museum.

The Artmobile containing the display will be located in front of the Campus Center of Christopher Newport College and will be open to the public from 2:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M., Monday, January 19, and 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M., Tuesday, January 20, and Wednesday, January 21.

Bicentennial TV Course Offered at CNC

As part of its Bicentennial celebration, Christopher Newport College will be offering a broadcast course for credit called THE ADAMS CHRONICLES, detailed the lives and contributions of four generations of the Adams family from 1750 - 1900.

The course will be coordinated with the 13-part series of the same title, produced by WNET, New York, and fed nationally by the Public Broadcasting Service, beginning Tuesday (January 20) 9:00 P.M. over WHRO TV, Channel 15. In addition to the Tuesday evening airing, each program will be shown on Sundays, at 7:00 P.M. and on Tuesday mornings at 8:10 A.M.

THE ADAMS CHRONICLES is American history through a study of a family who helped design, preserve, and expand a nation. The offices that John Adams and his descendants held parallel the history of the nation: a delegate to the First and Second Continental Congresses, Commissioner to France during the Revolutionary War, first American minister to Great Britain, first vice-president, second president, minister to Prussia and Russia, secretary of state, sixth president, member of the House of Representatives, minister to Great Britain during the Civil War, officers in the Union Army, financiers, and historians. The historic personalities with whom the Adams family members came in contact will also be central to the series, personalities such as Benjamin Franklin, John Hancock, Thomas Jefferson, and Alexander Hamilton.

SCHOLARSHIPS & FELLOWSHIPS

National Endowment for the Humanities

During the past week, posters have been placed around campus announcing the NEH Summer Seminars for college teachers for 1976. Seventy-eight seminars will be offered in various disciplines of the humanities and the humanistic social sciences. College faculty members who are selected to attend the seminars will receive stipends of $2,000 for a tenure period of two months plus housing and travel allowances of $250.

The award is definitely worth applying for. Stuart Van Orden was a recipient of the NEH Summer Seminar Award last year.

To be eligible, applicants must have faculty positions at the time of their application. Preference will be given to applicants who have been teaching at least three years at the college level. Candidates for degrees are not eligible, although applicants need not necessarily have advanced degrees to qualify.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

TO: Faculty.

FROM: Ad-Hoc Committee on Tenure Policy.

Multiple copies of the draft of a proposed tenure policy have been placed on 3-day reserve in the library. In order to finalize a policy which best represents the ideas of all parties concerned, the Committee is asking for informal critiques of this draft before bringing it to the faculty for formal consideration.

The Committee would like to receive these critiques in meetings in accordance with the following schedule:

- January 26 - President and Academic Deans
- January 27 - Faculty Advisory Committee
- January 28 - CNC Chapter, AAUP
- January 29 - Division Coordinators and Department Chairmen
- January 30 - Open meeting for all interested faculty members.

All meetings 2:30-3:30 P.M. in CC-214.
