Sen. Paul Trible To Teach Course Spring Semester

Paul S. Trible Jr., a member of Christopher Newport University's Board of Visitors and former U.S. Senator, will teach the course Leadership and Politics during the 1996 Spring Semester. Trible will invite guest speakers, including former and present political leaders to talk about the qualities of leadership and how to develop them.

Thank You To the CNU Community

Thank you for the support you have offered to Darwin and me during his illness and to me since his death. I have been blessed with so many and such varied acts of generosity and kindness from every segment of the University community that I can't begin to thank you individually. I am so very grateful to be part of the CNU family.

Christopher Newport University's first Open House of the 1995/96 academic year was held on Saturday, November 18, 1995. The University hosted 221 prospective students considering CNU to further their educational experience. A total of 493 guests attended making this the largest Open House since its inception in 1993. This represents a 75% increase over the previous largest Open House held in November 1993. Thanks to all faculty, staff and students who helped to make this program such a success!
