Obtaining Films from the Smith Library Media Department

The Media Department of the library can obtain films for use in class from two sources, which incur no costs from departmental sources. The two sources are the Teacher Resource Center of the Newport News Public School System and the Audio-Visual Services Department of the Department of Education, Richmond. The films must be ordered through the Media Department of our library, as neither institution will supply films directly to a student or a faculty member. Films can be ordered for students to show in class if the faculty member requests them through the Media Department. The staff of the Media Department will be glad to advise you or your students on films available to meet your academic needs.

Computer Center Offers Mini-Course for Secretaries

The Computer Center has arranged to offer an introductory computer course entitled "Introduction to Runoff" to all CNC secretaries.

Runoff is a versatile text-formatting software which provides users with limited word processing capabilities.

It is particularly useful to those who are faced with the tedious task of preparing standardized letters, technical reports, research papers, or tabloids, and, because it can be done on the computer, eliminates the need to type complex formats repeatedly. The short course, which will concentrate on topics like setting margins and tabs, creating headings and footers, paragraphing, paging, and line spacing, will be offered on Friday, December 9, 1983 in G145 at 1:30 p.m.

Susan Maskill, from the Computer Center, will be teaching the course.

It is expected to last about one hour, and all secretaries are strongly encouraged to attend.

Questions may be directed to Ms. Maskill in the Computer Center (599-7180).

-- Susan Maskill, CNC Computer Center

Dr. Webb moved that "(open only to Styron Scholars)" be included after "(3,3,0)" for the first course, Honors 290. This motion was seconded and passed. Subsequently, the Curriculum Committee's amended recommendation for approval of the five courses as described above was passed.

- F. Prof. Mary Lu Royall, the Director of the SACS Self Study, presented the following resolution:

Be It Resolved; That, the faculty of Christopher Newport College respectfully request that President John Anderson cast a negative vote on the proposed criteria for accreditation at the Annual College Delegate Assembly in New Orleans in December, 1983.

The Faculty of Christopher Newport College commends the efforts of the Commission and Task Force for its work on revision of the standards, and supports the reorganization of the proposed document. However, the CNC faculty expresses objections to being one of the first institutions to be evaluated under the "new criteria" without the accompanying manual to the criteria document and without the results of the two pilot studies the College Commission is conducting.

One amendment was offered by Dr. Saunders. The motion was to change the last line to read as follows:

However, the CNC faculty objects to being evaluated under the new "criteria" without the accompanying manual to the criteria document and without the results of the two pilot studies the College Commission is conducting.

This motion was passed and the resolution as amended was also passed.

- G. Dr. Daly, the Chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee, presented the following motion:

That the Faculty Advisory Committee and the Vice Chairman of the Faculty constitute an ad hoc Faculty College Handbook Review Committee empowered to represent and speak for the Faculty as the official input group to the College Handbook Committee and the President regarding matters pertaining to the revision of the College Handbook. This group will invite input from members of the Faculty.

An editorial change for the word "input" was moved by Dr. Saunders. His motion was to change the word "Input" for "Faculty" in the first instance and to "reactions and suggestions" in the second instance. This motion passed.

A second motion to amend was made by Dr. Sacks. The motion was to change the initial wording from "that" to "empowered" to read as follows:

That the Faculty constitute an ad hoc Faculty College Handbook Review Committee, comprising the Faculty Advisory Committee and the Vice Chairman of the Faculty, "

This motion passed.

The original motion, as amended above, was then passed by the Faculty.

- H. The resolution offered by Profs. Pugh and Daly was passed.

- VI. Brief announcements were made by Dr. Miller, Dr. Petruchyk and Dr. Summerville.

Dr. Miller announced that the questionnaire distributed at the beginning of this meeting was to be completed and returned at the conclusion.

Dr. Petruchyk made the following announcement:

The Art Department has in its care several prize winning paintings that are part of the College collection. In order that they may be seen and appreciated, we are offering to loan them out to interested faculty or staff members for display in offices or other secure areas. Anyone desirous of acquiring one of these paintings on loan should contact David Alexick or Jon Petruchyk, Gosnold 143-C, ex. 7090.

Basis for distribution - first come, same served.

Dr. Summerville announced that Prof. Chang was in room 539 at Riverside Hospital and that a visit from colleagues would be most appreciated.

- VII. This meeting was adjourned at 4:23 p.m.
