Offer of Sculpture on Loan

For several years, the Department of Fine and Performing Arts has been the guardian of a sculpture from a James River Juried Art Show. The piece was given to CNC by the Junior League of Hampton Roads.

Because of the nature and size of the sculpture, it has not been deemed appropriate for display in the Campus Center.

Any administrator or faculty member who likes avante garde art and who will offer the piece a good home and reasonable protection may have it moved to his/her organizational headquarters or private office.

If you are interested, please make an appointment with Rita Hubbard to view the sculpture. (CC-143) (Telephone: 7073).

"Catalyst" Materials

The Counseling Center has just received an up-date on the "Catalyst" series. This is a series of pamphlets on career options for undergraduate women. It includes expanding opportunities for women in government and politics, industrial management, finance, engineering, retail management, and several other areas. The Center encourages all staff and faculty to come by and view this material.
