Economics Professor to Speak on Welfare Reform

RICHMOND, VA. --Dr. Carolyn Shaw Bell, the Katharine Coman Professor of Economics at Wellesley College, will be speaking at five Virginia colleges and universities this week under the auspices of the University Center in Virginia on "Welfare Reform -- For Whom?". Before joining the faculty at Wellesley, she taught at Holyoke Junior College. She has also served as an economist in the Office of Price Administration, a research economist for the Social Science Research Council at Harvard University, and an economic consultant to publishers and to consumer marketing firms. She has done extensive studies on employment and on problems of the urban poor.

Carolyn Shaw Bell is Katharine Coman Professor of Economics at Wellesley College. Mrs. Bell's special fields are the economics of consumption and marketing, and economic accounting. She has done extensive studies on employment, on problems of the urban poor, and currently chairs the Committee on the Status of Women in the Economics Profession of American Economic Association.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mrs. Bell received her undergraduate degree from Mount Holyoke College and the Ph.D. degree from the London School of Economics.

Before joining the faculty at Wellesley, she taught at Holyoke Junior College. She served as an economist in the Office of Price Administration during World War II, has been a research economist for the Social Science Research Council at Harvard University, and an economic consultant to publishers and to consumer marketing firms.

Mrs. Bell has held the Shirley Farr Fellowship from the American Association of University Women for research on consumer innovation, and Ford Foundation grants for research on economic education in the schools.

She is the author of many articles. Her

Noted economist, Dr. Carolyn Shaw Bell, to speak here on November 10 in the CC Theatre at Noon.

"Unemployed Women: Do They Matter?" which appeared in the Wall Street Journal (March 15, 1972) has been widely quoted and reprinted. More recent articles include: "Social Security: Society's Last Discrimination" (Business and Society Review, Autumn 1972), and "Age, Sex, Marriage and Jobs" (The Public Interest, Winter 1972-1973). Mrs. Bell's monograph "Women in Science: Definitions and Data for Economic Analysis" appears in Annals of the New York Academy of Science, Vol. 208 (1973). Two pieces dealing with problems of the urban poor are scheduled for publication in the forthcoming issue of Current

History and The Journal of Economic Issues. Currently in press is a chapter in a collection of essays, entitled Public Service Employment to be published by Praeger in May. Mrs. Bell's most recent full-length work is The Economics of the Ghetto, a Pegasus book, published in both hardcover and paperback by Bobbs-Merrill. Earlier books dealt with the fields of consumption and marketing.

Outside the College, she serves on the Board of Economic Advisers for the Public Interest Center; the Committee on Hiring Practices of the American Economic Association, and is a 1973 member of the AEA's nominating committee; the Board of Directors of the Association for Evolutionary Economics; the editorial board of Challenge magazine; and she is a public member of the National Advertising Review Board (NARB), the advertising industry's self-regulatory body.

Mrs. Bell is widely known as a professional economist because of her frequent commentaries on current economic problems in the press, at conferences, and on the air. Her criticism of administration policy on unemployment helped produce a change in the official reports issued monthly from the White House.

Dr. Bell will speak here on Monday, November 10 at 12 noon in the Campus Center Theatre. Her address should be of special interest to economic and business majors; however, this lecture will be open to all members of the student body and faculty. Her topic will be, "Welfare Reform -- For Whom?".

Noted Metropolitan Baritone to Present Concert on November 15

Metropolitan Opera baritone William Walker will present a recital at the Campus Center Theatre of Christopher Newport College at 8:00 p.m. on November 15. His program of song will be the second in the Nancy A. Ramseur Memorial Artists-in-Concert Series.

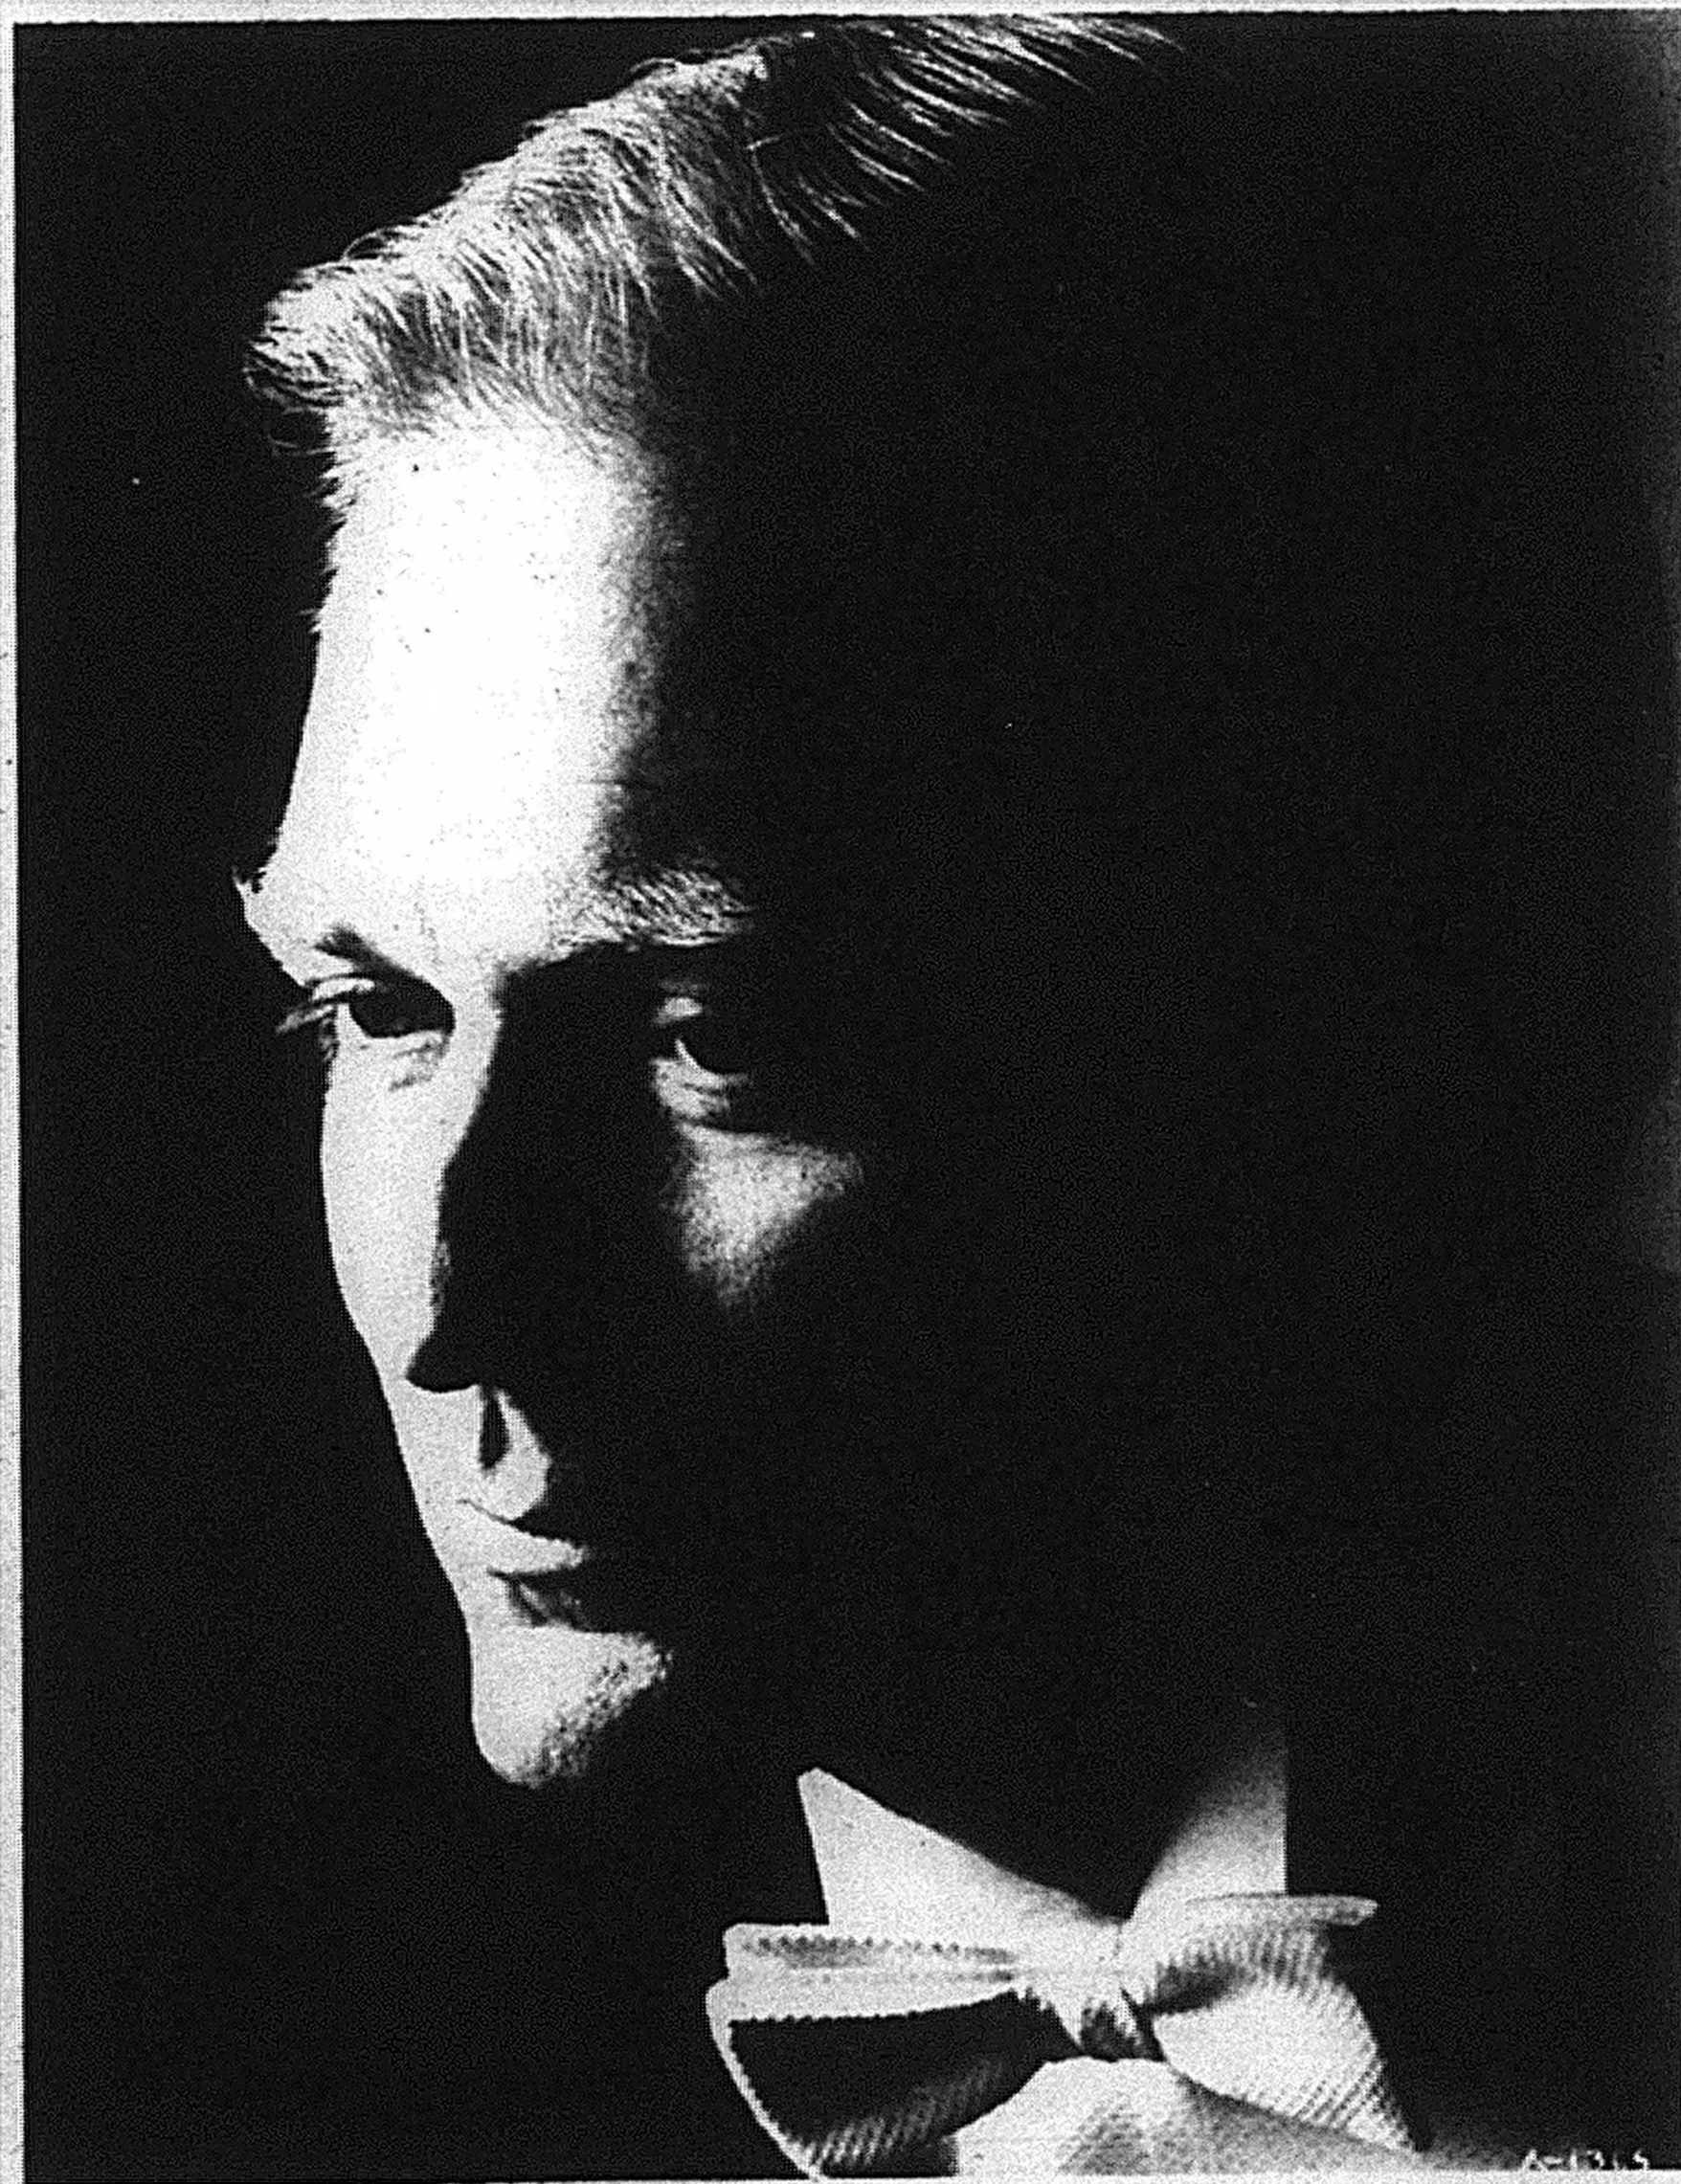

The evening's recital will include four songs by Schubert, including "An die Musik" and "Der Erlkönig"; four by the American composer Richard Cumming, including "A Sight in Camp" and "When in Disgrace with Fortune and Men's Eyes"; Leoncavallo's "Prologue to I Pagliacci"; songs by Paladine, Faure, and Duparc; and selections from the American Musical Theatre selected from Camelot, Brigadoon and Fiddler on the Roof.

William Walker made his Metropolitan debut in 1962 after being top winner in the Met Auditions. Since then he has sung leading roles there and on the company's national tours ranging from Papageno in Mozart's "Magic Flute" to Prince Yeletsky in Tchaikovsky's "Queen of Spades" (Pique Dame). On Broadway he has starred as Lucille Ball's leading man in "Wildcat" and has appeared in starring roles in summer stock productions such as "Carousel", "Damn Yankees", "Showboat", etc. As a recitalist, he has been unanimously acclaimed not only for his rich baritone voice and artistry, but also for his witty, warm personality and charm as a raconteur. With his beautiful voice and "gift of gab", William Walker has been in demand on TV's most popular talk shows.

The headline of the Spokesman-Review in Spokane, Washington read: Met Baritone's Skills Charm Area Audience under which was a review full of praise. "Baritone Walker, handsome and Texas-born, proved himself a master of highly personal concert, in which rapport between audience and performer is established early and nurtured throughout the evening. And this rapport was not produced by mere showmanship - Walker's voice has made him the leading young baritone of the Met...the singer was greeted with a standing ovation - for his voice, his humor and his way of communicating a musical experience."

For ticket information call the Office of Continuing Studies, 599-7045.

Letters to The Editor: Who Stole My Painting?

To the Editor:

I call upon the spirits of my ancestors to bring the wrath of the Irish and the anger of the Polish gypsies upon the head of you who stole my painting. Mosquitos will swarm about your head. Your eyes will itch and your tongue swell. Your body odor will become worse than that of a carrion-eater. The soles of your feet will burn. Your friends will find you boring, your professors will think you're stupid. Your alarm clock will stop. Your car will not function on Tuesdays. Until you right the wrong you have done me, these conditions shall be.

Magic Act Cheap

Dear Sir:

Is it true that the Campus Center Program Committee has actually allocated 750 Christopher Newport Student Body dollars to finance a magic act?

Is this a result of higher education? If so, it is a bit easier to rationalize why our governor sees fit to cut our education budget.

Please tell me this is not true and that the members of the Campus Center Committee are more responsible than this.

Pat Lord

Ms. Lord:

No it is not true that $750.00 is being paid for a magical act, Jim Rollins said that the act is costing only $700.00, and that's a bargain for an act of this calibre.

If you would like further information, contact Jim at the CC Info. Desk.

Don't Point, Put Your Hand to Work

Mr. Sellenberg:

As you stated in your letter to the Editor, October 27, the Election Committee knew of these irregularities. Why then was it necessary for a formal complaint to be submitted by anyone, Bingham or Treece? The election should have been declared invalid immediately.

Since we now know, roughly, what took place, why doesn't all concerned take steps to insure that this sort of thing doesn't happen again instead of pointing fingers. After all, that is one of the reasons for having a SGA.

Democracy is Not Dead, Vote

The word "apathy" is one that has been driven, pounded, shelved, thrown, hammered, and beamed at the American public; and especially, the student, until its supremacy has burst forth to choke his jaundiced goals to a reputable extinction.

While criticisms are made, seldom does the criticaster make an active effort to surprise the cause of this fault. No, he would rather survey the world in his ignorance. He does not see that the bureaucratic structure of our society, the lines, the red tape, and above all, the helplessness we feel when the good-of-the-people emerges as a good second to the needs of other "vested" interests.

Alumni Garage Sale

The CNC Alumni Association will sponsor a garage sale in Ratcliffe Gymnasium on Saturday, November 8, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Anyone who would like to donate anything to this sale can deliver it to Vivian Johnson in the Registrar's Office. If the donation is too large to bring to Ms. Johnson, please call Tom Powell at 595-9010 between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to pick up the item.

Proceeds from the sale will help defray the cost of the Usry portrait which is a current project of the Alumni Association.

WANTED-Basketball Manager

The CNC Basketball Team is looking for a responsible male student to serve as manager of the team. Anyone interested should see Coach Vaughan in R 104 as soon as possible.

Hot Seat Special

Members of the Student Government Executive Council will be available to receive your comments about any college related topics on November 6 at 12:15 until 1:00 p.m. and November 7 from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. in the Campus Center Hallway. Come by and voice your opinions.

PEP BAND FORMING

A meeting will be held November 3, 1975 at 7:30 p.m. in R 109 for all students interested in forming a CNC Pep Band. If you are unable to attend this meeting, please see Mr. Vaughan in R 104 prior to this meeting.

It is not the demise of our ambitions we are to attest on November 4; no, it is the restoration of our confidence in our ability to select the shepherd of our lifestyle.

Democracy is not dead! Vote on November 4.

...In Your Ear

By Chuck Edwards

Do today's college students have any effect on the administration of their colleges or is "student power" merely a nostalgic phrase from the recent past? It appears that for this particular college, the latter seems closest to the truth.

Granted, there are areas in the administrative process of an institute of higher learning where student input is not needed (The Happy Hour Committee for example). There are, however, other areas where the student can make an effective contribution.

There is student involvement/inclusion in many of the guiding committees of this college. Their presence on these committees seems to be, at best, a token one.

As it stands, students control the Traffic Control Committee and have fifty percent representation in the Student Activities Committee. In all other committees, students either have no voice or minute representation. Isn't it nice to know that the administration has enough confidence in the students to allow them to control the traffic on campus?

"R. C. Queens" Stock Campus Vending Machines with a Smile and Charm

By Debbie Grim

Christopher Newport College has two kindly "Royal Crown Cola Queens" who visit their royal subjects every day. Never have two queens been so attentive to the needs of the realm. As a result of their understanding care and aid, their royal family flourishes.

As of the beginning of the fall semester, Theresa Shaffer and Verdis Knight have been CNC's Reigning R.C. Cola Queens. It is their task to refill all the drink machines on campus. One machine holds 11 cases, approximately 260 cans. The heaviest day recorded meant refilling a total of 41 1/4 cases - over 1000 cans! The most popular drink is R.C. Cola (thus the name R.C. Cola Queen).

No one can say our queens are lazy, sitting on their thrones all day gossiping and sewing; they schedule one visit each day to each machine. Their runs are usually around 11:00 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays, and 12:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. They handle every can with care and thoughtfulness, and those cans sure do add up!

Actually, their job requires more labor than most jobs, but they like it. When asked if they ended up with backaches, they replied yes, at first, but now they are "in shape". They refill each machine daily. There are even names for their subjects. In the library, "Libby" awaits their royal touch. In Wingfield Hall, there are two members of the realm, "Wingy I & II". In Christopher Newport Hall, "Chrissy I & II" eagerly anticipate the attentions of their beloved queens. In Gosnold Hall, "Goose" is the lone machine. In the Campus Center, guess who lives there? "Campy I & II". And we mustn't forget "Minnie" who resides in the Administration Building. So there you have it, names and addresses of each royal subject.

Our queens have one request to make to the student body. Please treat their royal subjects with dignity and respect. Don't underpay them with pennies and slugs, pay them their due reward of $0.25. Also, take notice that all machines do not carry the same variety of drinks. If you would like to get a drink other than those offered, you can tell one of the queens and she can make an order for it.

Theresa and Verdis are a jolly pair of queens. They take all mishaps with a smile and a song.

The theme song is "Me and My R.C.", sung with gusto and true dedication to the cause. A few examples of these mishaps are titled carts resulting in hundreds of cans rolling everywhere, crushed and broken toes caused by carts going out of control (Sorry, Ms. Seats!), and exploding cans. Two suggestions to improve the royal visits are: (1) a fanfare by French Horns announcing the Queens' arrival, and (2) a mule to pull the cartload of cans. Unfortunately, neither of these suggestions were accepted by our Queens.

Next time you get a drink from Libby, Goose, Minnie, Chrissy I & II, Wing I & II, or Campy I & II, think a kind thought for our queens as they sing "Me and My R.C." along their R.C. Trail.

Golfers Defeat Apprentice School on Home Course in Close Match

After losing the prior week 322-346, the CNC Golf Team came back to its home course and defeated the Apprentice School 333-335.

This was the first time in nine years that CNC has defeated its across town rivals in Golf. Leading the way was Freshman Bill Campbell with a 79 to tie Mike Ancel of the Apprentice School. Next was Terry Slonecker and Pat Fallon with 84's. Rounding out the fourth position was Randy Heath with an 86. Other team scores were Ed Myers with an 88 and Bob Dely with a 93. The key to the victory was the improved play on the back nine holes where Campbell had a 37; Slonecker a 40; Fallon and Heath 41's. This victory was probably CNC's best team effort to date.

Coach Hubbard states that the spring squad can be the best ever to represent CNC; however, it will take six men to score well in the big matches. It is hoped that the Captains will show continued improvement during the fall and winter practices. Coach Hubbard says that it is not too late to participate in this program.

Soccer Club Elects New Officers

The CNC soccer club held its first meeting of the year this past Wednesday and elected its new officers. Jeff Cahoun was elected Secretary-Treasurer, Mike Guida was elected Vice-President, and Derek Curran was elected President.

The club also voted to accept any student currently enrolled or any player who is seriously thinking of attending school here next year for membership. The soccer club plays in tournaments and soccer matches all through the winter and into the spring.

The club, though only three years old, has high hopes of spreading soccer throughout the Peninsula. Last year's club, led by Charlie Tudor, successfully captured the Naval Invitational Tournament in Norfolk. "This year we hope to go on and capture the Azalea Festival Crown," says Vice-President, Mike Guida. The Azalea Festival, an annual soccer tournament, presents the best soccer teams in the Norfolk-Tidewater area.

"We extend an open invitation to anyone interested in playing soccer with us" says Derek Curran, the new President. He added that no experience is necessary, "the bulk of our team comes from one and two year soccer men who have learned the game playing for CNC," he concluded.

Head Hunters Remain Undefeated in Intrumural Flag Football

Intramural football games were dampened Sunday, October 26, by heavy rains. Game one between the heavily favored, undefeated, Head Hunters and the winless, Independents, was played, predominantly, in the rain.

Both teams showed points of defensive stardom throughout the entire game. It was the Head Hunters who took a slight advantage on an Independent broken play early in the fourth quarter when Jim Hagen caught David Stein in the end zone for a safety. That was the one, and only score of the game; Head Hunters -2, Independents -0.

It was unfortunate that there were not more spectators to witness the most aggressive and enthusiastic game of the season. In addition, the slipping and sliding produced in the mud caused by the early rain was in itself a sight well worth seeing.

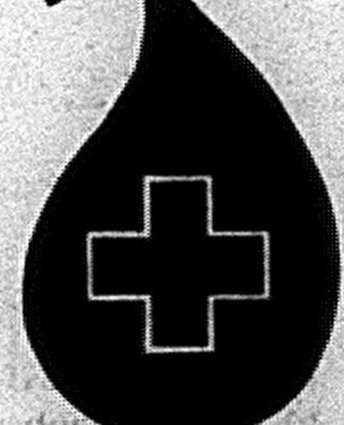

The second game, EHOs vs. Raiders, was cancelled due to wet field conditions. This game will be rescheduled at the end of the season.

Extra Texture. Produced and written by George Harrison. 1975 Apple Records.

Everyone who has followed the Beatles through the years has probably picked a favorite. Each individual style that was put under restraint in the group format has now come to light. George Harrison has developed and presented his own unique sound in this manner.

Harrison has caught a lot of flak for promoting his style; people wanted the Beatle sound back. Consequently, Harrison's solo work was thought to be "alright," but "not the Beatles." George has spent years, and many albums proving that his sound is just as worthwhile.

Extra Texture is his latest release. Many of Harrison's standby musicians appear on this album such as: Jim Horn, Leon Russell, Billy Preston, Klaus Voorman, Jim Keltner, and a long list of others. George has always incorporated a variety of talents in his albums which he seemingly dominates.

"You" is the AM hit of the LP that features the unusual addition of a string arrangement to a rock format. "Yakkety Sax", a sound popular with the other three ex-Beatles, is featured.

The now famous Harrison weeping guitar style is the foundation for "This Guitar Can't Keep from Crying." The guitar blends with the synthesizing of the ARP bass beautifully.

"Ooh Baby (You Know that I Love You)" resembles "Light That Has Lighted the World" off of Living in the Material World. This sleepy, easy-going number is dedicated to Smokey Robinson. Its only bad feature is the obscurity of the vocals.

The one song that is reminiscent of the Beatles is "World of Stone," only because a multi-tracked vocal "chorus" is used.

Finally, the rocker, "His Name Is Legs (Ladies and Gentlemen)" has Harrison's characteristic galloping rhythm, similar to the title cut off Living in the Material World. The brass is strong in this number; Billy Preston plays piano.

Extra Texture marks the last of the Apple Records for George Harrison; ironically, he also had the first record on the Apple label. The recording crew and the producer have changed. All of the old Apple people have been removed and Harrison produced his own album.

Although the development of George Harrison's sound was naturally influenced by his Beatle background, it remains unique and laudable in its own right.

Extra Texture was contributed by Wide World of Music, Tidewater's largest record and audio dealer. It is located at Newmarket North and open Monday through Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Over twenty-five "Sale priced" items (regular $6.98 LP's now only $4.29) are now available. CNC Players to Present Caligula November 6-8

By Pat Roof

The CNC players will open their first play of the year November 6-8 in the Campus Center Theatre. Caligula, directed by Stan Fedyszyn, is spectacular experimental theater and will no doubt cause a stir as a first of its kind on the Peninsula.

The play concerns a neurotic Roman emperor in search of a personal freedom which he struggles for through the insane manipulation of his people. The play is relevant to other eras in time, such as Hitler in Germany during World War II and other governments where the people are subject to the whims of an irresponsible leader.

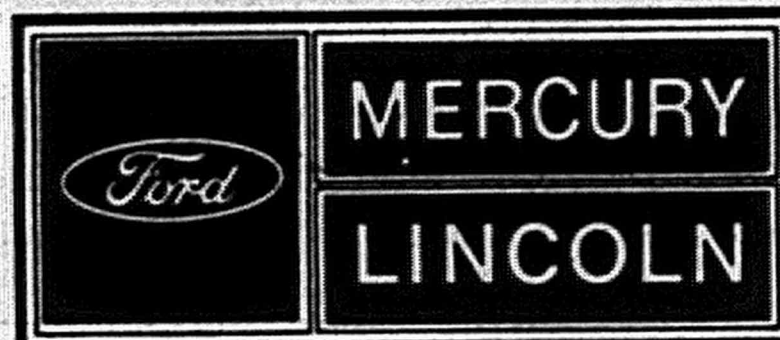

In the past, plays produced by the CNC

Players have gained little response or recognition from the student body, but because of the powerful content, bizarre and sensational costumes and extraordinary production of Caligula, student and faculty may be sparked and provoked to attend the performance.

Caligula is one of the two plays the CNC Players have been invited to perform in four cities in Poland in January.

SGA Not Dead, Attendance Record Set at Assembly Meeting

By Mary Dvorak

Yes, Christopher Newport, the SGA is still alive, even though they don't seem to be too visible. There were thirty people in attendance at the SGA Assembly meeting on October 27, quite possibly a record for this college.

What is the Assembly doing? Monday's meeting was called to order by the Speaker of the assembly, Eric Bankit. I bet you did not know he was the Speaker! After the minutes were read the Assembly elected Chuck Edwards as Vice-Speaker, Paul Clements was appointed as Parliamentarian, and Wanda Moen was elected to be the Secretary.

The next order of business was to untable some amendments, the first of which was to change the name of the Student Assembly to the Student Senate so that student representatives may be called Senators and carry more weight around the school, and with the Administration.

Typical of past Assemblies, the present body of student representatives spent almost an entire hour discussing amendments to the By-Laws, which must become obsolete from semester to semester with all the changes that are made.

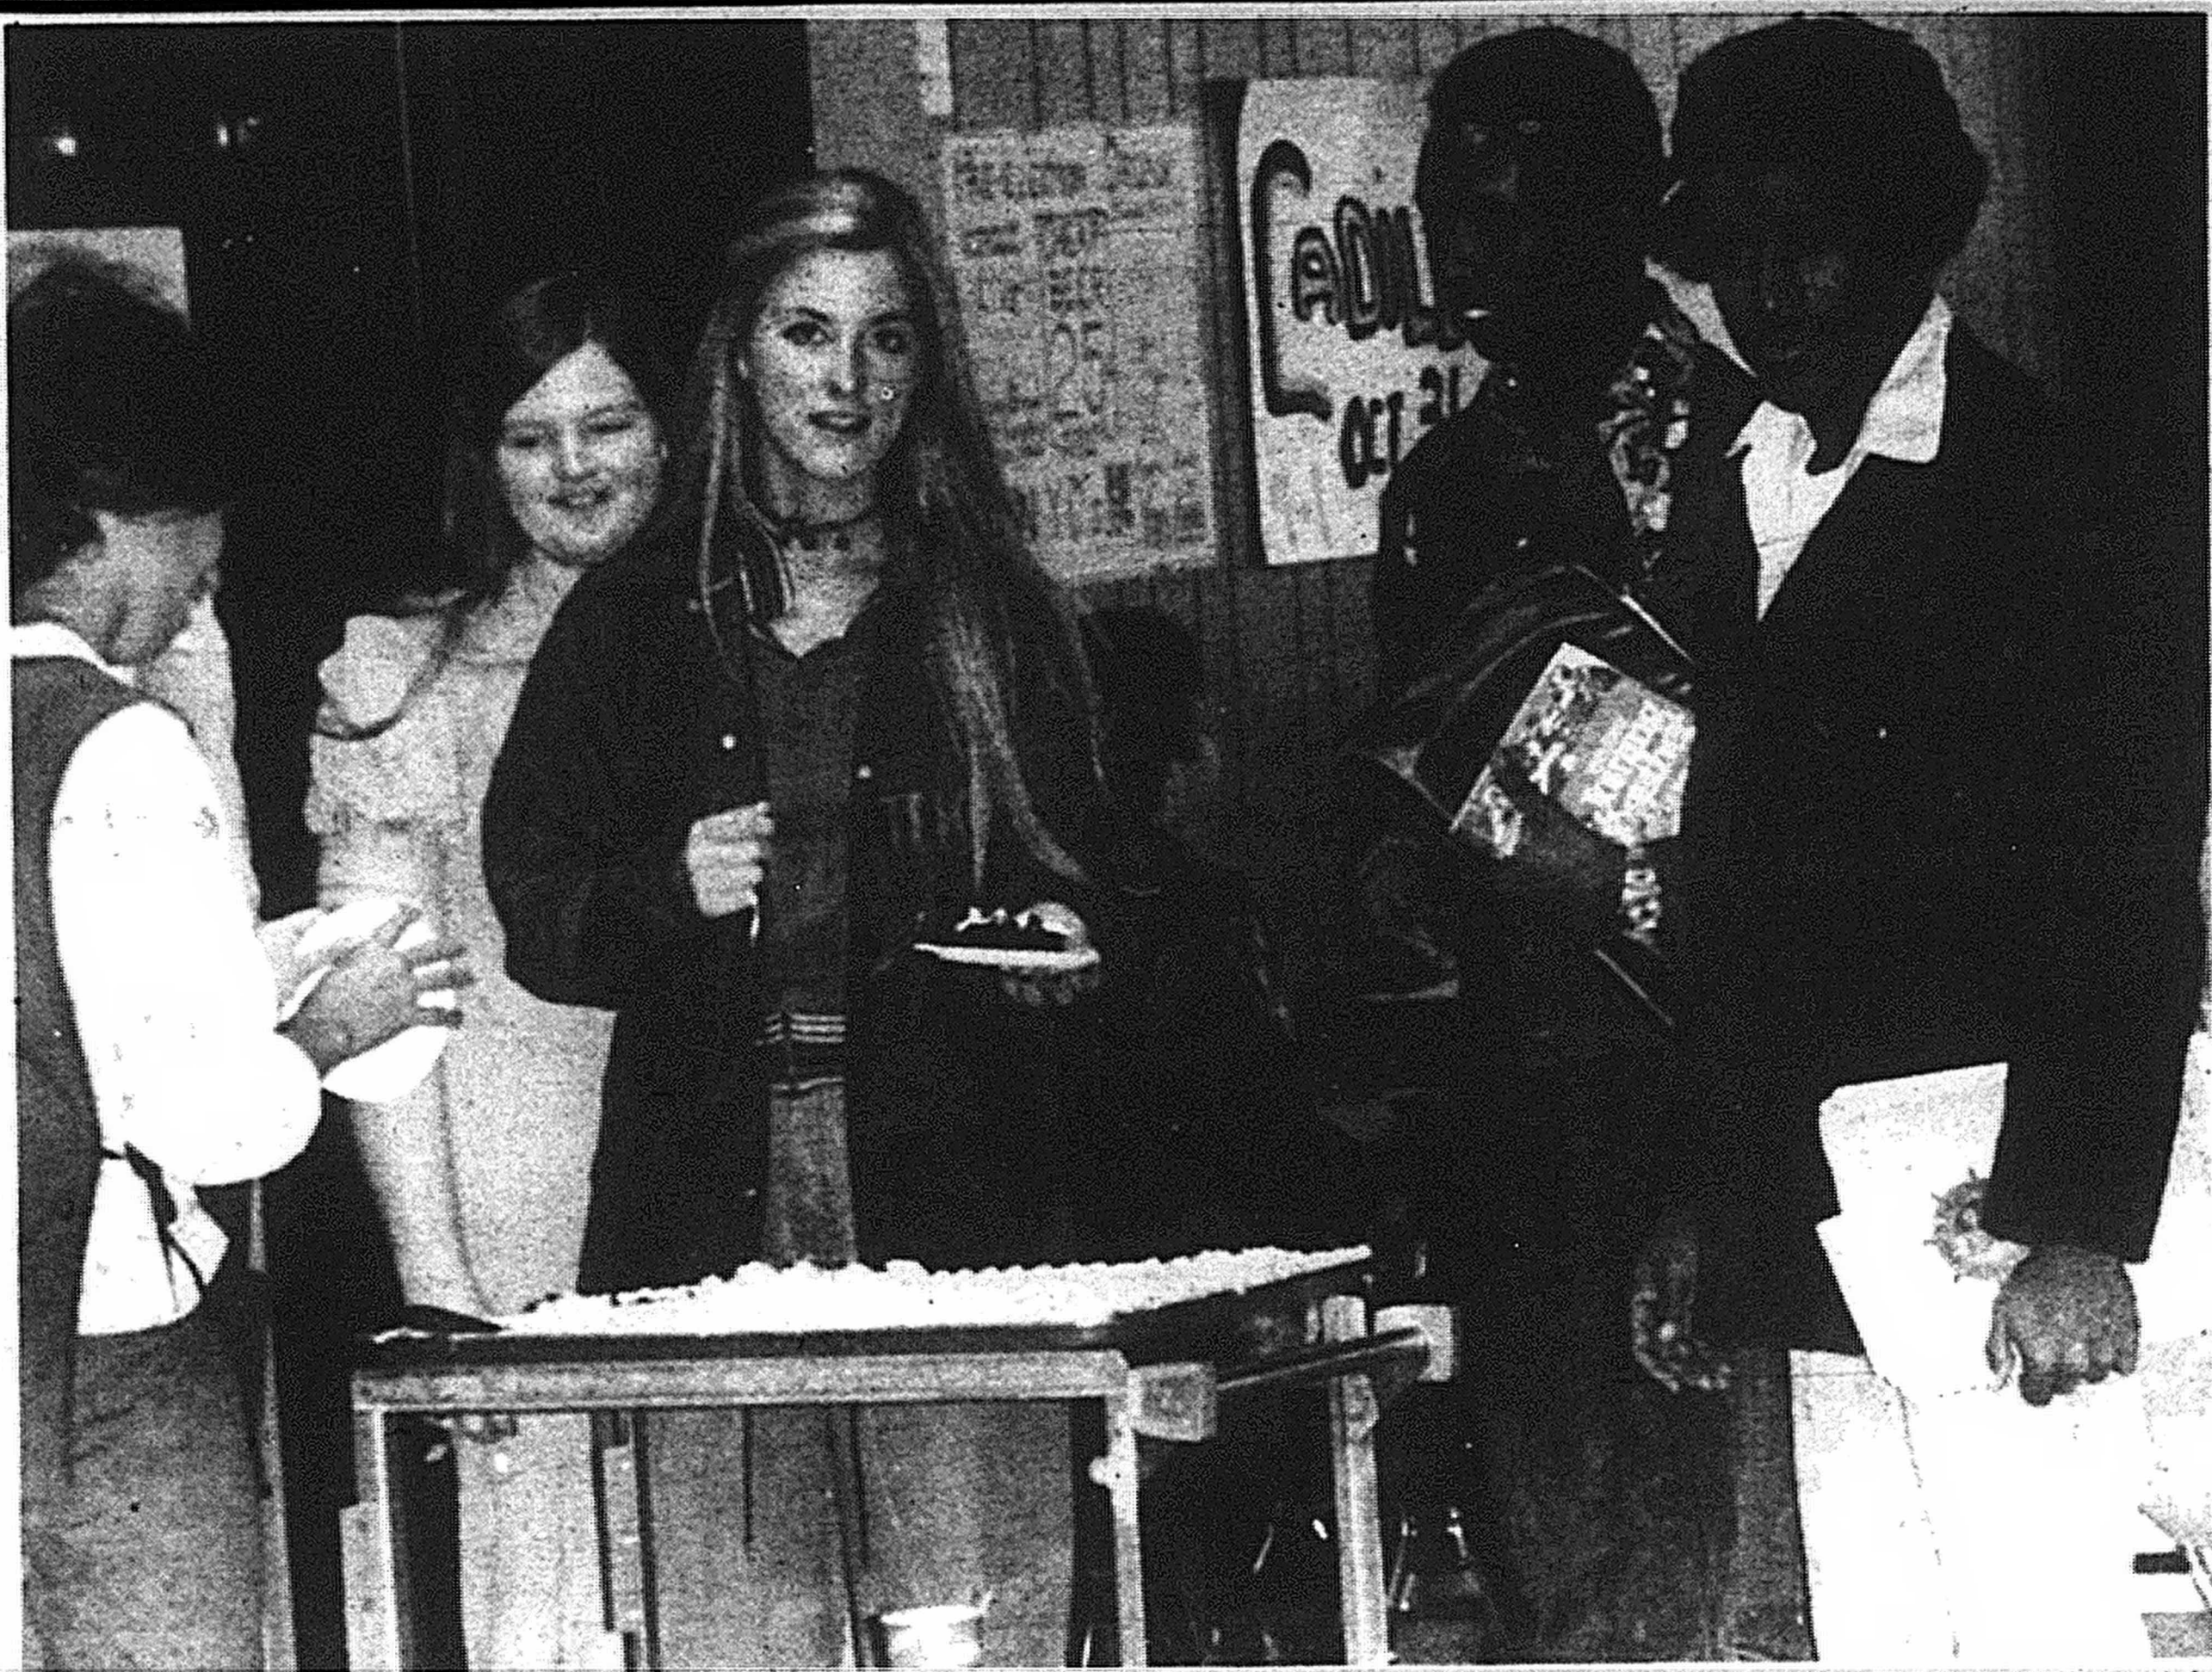

After the October 27 meeting, class vice-presidents are ex-officio members of the Senate presidents are ex-officio members of the Senate, with a vote. A proposal was made that the SGA vice-president serve as historian; compiling data, minutes, and committee reports. It was also proposed to have the Vice-president serve as Parliamentarian for the SGA Executive Council and to have the Treasurer of the SGA issue a financial statement each semester to the Student Activities Committee, SGA, and to clubs or interested groups recognized by the SGA and funded by the Student Activities Committee.

Reaffirming the main purpose of the student government to do things for the student, campus, and the school; three committees were appointed. Two of the committees were set up to review the Financial Aid office and the Student Placement office. The third committee, whose results will hopefully be published, is a committee to conduct class and faculty evaluations.

Following this important business the German Club's constitution was presented to the Senate, which requested that it be returned for minor revisions.

Before adjourning for the day, all veterans were saluted, in honor of the day-Veteran's Day.

The next meeting of the SGA Assembly is scheduled for Monday, November 10 at noon in CC 233. All students have the right to attend these meetings.

Alumni Supports Independence for CNC

The Christopher Newport College Alumni Association adopted a resolution on October 21, 1975, which supports the independence of CNC from the College of William and Mary. The resolution, passed unanimously at the last Alumni Association meeting, comes as a result of the recent and the on-going controversy over CNC's proposed independent status.

Whereas, Christopher Newport College was founded in 1960 and has developed in an orderly fashion under the sponsorship of The College of William and Mary, and

Whereas, the College has now reached a level of maturity as a fully accredited four-year institution of higher learning, and

Whereas the College has developed a quality educational program and has an excellent faculty and competent administration who serve more than 3,000 students, and

Whereas the future growth and development of Christopher Newport would be enhanced if the College had its own Board of Visitors which would give its full time and energy to the guidance and support of Christopher Newport, and

Whereas it has been the accepted policy in the state of Virginia to grant independent status to branch colleges once they reach maturity and are independently accredited,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the Alumni Association of Christopher Newport College expresses its strong support of an independent status for Christopher Newport, and

Be It Further Resolved that the Association urges President James Windsor, The Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary, and the local members of the General Assembly to effect the independence of Christopher Newport during the forthcoming meeting of the General Assembly, effective July 1, 1976.

The CNC Alumni Association has forwarded copies of the resolution to local congressmen and senators in order to affirm its position on the matter to these persons.

Occupational Outlook Handbook, Pre-Law Symposium, Job Interviews for Seniors Offered at Placement Office

The Office of Career Planning and Placement offers a wide range of services to the Christopher Newport student and graduates. These services, though seldom missed until needed, include; the placement of students in part- and full-time jobs, dissemination of information on the current job market, the presentation of symposiums, contacting firms to recruit at CNC, and scheduling job interviews for seniors.

The Occupational Outlook Handbook now available at the Placement Office provides the student with occupational information that broadens his or her knowledge of the choices available to him or her and helps in making intelligent career plans. The Handbook answers such questions as: What does a person actually do on the job; What abilities and interests does the job call for; What kind of schooling and other training is required for the job; What are the working conditions; and most important, What will be the job opportunities in coming years?

The Pre-Law Symposium to be held at Old Dominion University on Tuesday, November 4, 1975, will be composed of a panel of four lawyers from the University of Virginia and the College of William and Mary. The session will take place in Chandler Hall, Room 120, at 12:30 p.m.

Seniors may make appointments to see the following company representatives at the Office of Career Planning and Placement, Gosnold Hall, Room 206:

*November 5 - Fidelity Union Life, All Degrees. 9 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

*November 10 - Burroughs Corporation, Business Administration. 9 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

*November 12 - G. C. Murphy, Business Administration. 9 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

*November 14 - Dow Badische Company, Accounting/Chemistry/Business-for Sale Development. 9 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

*November 19 - Eggleston, Smith & Company, Accounting. 9 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition to the above, interested seniors may contact the Placement Office to sign up for interviews at The College of William and Mary.

Veterans' Hotline:

Questions and Answers About Benefits

Q. What is this delimiting date I see on VA correspondence?

A. This is the date that your eligibility for VA educational assistance will cease. Under the present law you have 10 years from the date of your last release from active duty. Exception has been made for those veterans released from active duty prior to June 1, 1966. Their eligibility will expire May 31, 1976.

Q. What happens if my 36 months entitlement ends in the middle of a semester?

A. For veterans, entitlement will be extended to the end of the semester provided the delimiting date has not passed.

Q. How does the Vocational Rehabilitation program differ from the regular G.I. Bill?

A. This is a program to assist a service disabled veteran to acquire new vocational skills to help overcome the handicap of his disability. The VA pays the trainee a monthly allowance, and pays the cost of his tuition, books, supplies and any other incidental services. Normally, eligibility for this program is based on service-connected disability of 10% or more. Contact Mr. Aspell in the Counseling Center (ext. 7175) for answers to specific questions on this program.

The Salesians...

Helping others to help themselves.

True charity isn't always a handful of rice... or the gift of a warm shirt... it's helping others to help themselves. A more lasting and dignified way, we say.

Since our foundation in 1859, this has been the Salesian way. Education is the keynote. What good is a meal today when one must think of all the tomorrows? St. John Bosco knew this well. What good are dreams unless they are translated in reality by deeds?

Around the world, Salesian missionaries help their flock by giving them ways to help themselves. Whether it is agricultural training or technical training for a trade they can learn, people are encouraged to find their own niche, their own way of betterment, their own road to human dignity and self help.

Salesians work primarily for youth, for it is in the young that hope is born. There are Salesian missions in 73 countries around the world. If you are interested in a life that gives as much as it receives, fill-in the coupon below... and we will send you additional information on the Salesian way.
