ROTC Cadets Recognized For Their Achievements

by Bob Torche

During the Spring semester, Army ROTC has been involved in many training exercises. The culmination of these exercises and training periods was last week's awards ceremony, at which time top achievers were recognized for their accomplishments.

Most of the exercises this year, and particularly this semester have been geared toward preparation for the Advanced Camp this summer. This camp is a practical application point for all the skills covered over the cadet's first three years at CNC. It is also a training center for instructional skills that the seniors will need as they prepare to lead the training sessions next fall.

In the fall of 1984, the Ranger Club sponsored an exercise for ROTC at Little Creek Amphibious Base. Following the Ranger exercise of September was a CNC and William and Mary combined event.

The first training event of 1985 was yet another Ranger exercise, in March at Fort Eustis. The final exercise of the semester, also in March, was a joint training exercise designed to prepare all junior cadets for Advanced Camp.

The culmination of all of this training is the Awards Ceremony. On Monday, April 25, the CNC ROTC detachment honored and decorated its most outstanding cadets; those who have demonstrated their dedication to the corps through their achievements in academics, specialized army training, and extracurricular activity.

In the early part of the day, Colonel Robert R. Goodhart, professor of Military Science from the College of William and Mary, heard his final briefing from the CNC cadet staff.

The briefing was followed by the actual ceremony. Awards were presented by CNC President John Anderson, and by Deans Jouett Powell and Algin King.

It is noted of this 1985 Advanced Camp Graduating Class, that out of the 113 colleges represented, CNC placed sixth overall.

Dr. Webb's Condition Improves

Several weeks ago, Dr. Jane Webb was injured in a bicycle accident on the CNC campus. The Captain's Log reported the information concerning that collision.

Since that time, members of the Log's reporting staff have been keeping in contact with Dr. George Webb with regards to her condition. Dr. George Webb reports that she is feeling well enough to return to school for two hours a day. He also says that there are no long-term effects from her injuries.

Hopefully, within six to eight weeks she will be in good shape.

A warm, heart-felt thank you to all of those who showed their concern and caring during this time is sent, with best wishes for the coming semester.

Seminar on Management Held at CNC

A Youth Leadership Workshop, sponsored by CNC and the York County Youth Commission, will be held Saturday, April 27 at 8 a.m. in the CNC Campus Center.

This seminar will cover stress management, leadership trends for the '80's, time management, public speaking and dressing for success. It is offered in an effort to provide students on the Peninsula with the techniques, skills and information needed to become a leader.

The following speakers are all community leaders with experience in business and group management.

Robert L. Steele, York County's assistant administrator, has served as chief planner for the Peninsula Office of Manpower Programs and as an Army command sergeant major.

Steele holds a master's degree in public administration and a bachelor's degree in business management.

Vicki Hrynkiwicz is office manager for a local cardiologist and does image counseling. She owns the Nouveaux Modeling and Career Center and has training in makeup and color analysis.

Eric Siverston is a senior at York High School and is chairman of the York Youth Commission. He has served as an interpreter at the Yorktown Victory Center and has won several public speaking contests.

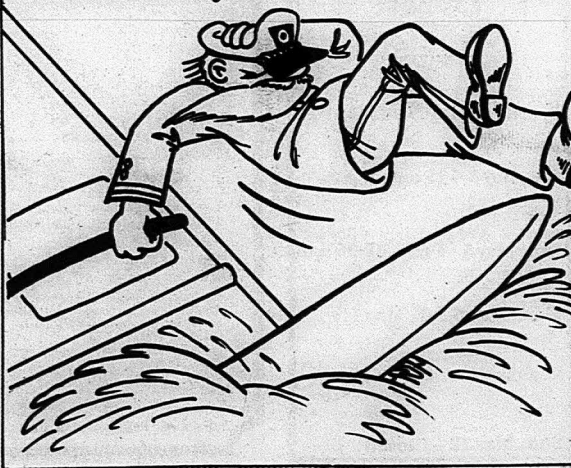

Diana Batina is a business development specialist with the Greater Peninsula Job Training Consortium and holds two master's degrees - in counseling and personnel and in industrial research and development.

Lynn Ballard is assistant director of employee relations at CNC and has served as a professional counselor. She has a master's degree in education and a bachelor's degree in health and physical education.

Students from all Peninsula communities are invited to attend. The fee of $5.00 will include lunch. For registration and information call 599-7158.

Honors Ceremony Set Apart From Conferring of Degrees

by Robert Moody

Christopher Newport's graduation weekend will include a new event this year. The Honors Convocation Committee announced that the first annual Honors Convocation will take place, as an integral part of graduation weekend, on Saturday, May 18, 1985 at 5:00 p.m. in the campus center theatre.

The committee was comprised of three faculty members; Susan Casey, David Alexick, and Doug Gordon, three students; Robert Moody IV, president of Alpha Chi Honor Society, Jamie Roudabush, Vice President for Academic Affairs, and a student member at large, Chris Davidson, and was chaired by John McCaughey. Committee members felt the purpose of the ceremony will be to serve as an opportunity to share, both faculty and student alike, in honors recognition, separate from the actual conferring of degrees.

John McCaughey announced in the April 12 issue of The Chronicle, the ceremony will precede the annual Vice President's reception held at Christopher's. At the Convocation, all graduating seniors will be honored if they have achieved academic honors while attending CNC. Honors presented will include departmental honors, membership in honor societies, receipt of college wide honors, and any individual awards. All faculty receiving promotion, tenure, or emeritus status will also be honored. All faculty and graduating seniors are encouraged to attend.

Opinion

Students' Pick Stirs Commotion

In the article about me in your past issue of The Captain's Log I named Dr. Dave Doughty from the Physics Department as my favorite CNC professor. Since then, however, I have been confronted in public by my math professor with this statement.

I now realize the error of my ways, and I hereby offer my humble apology to Dr. Glen Weber, my Linear Algebra teacher, and to his disappointed mother.

To correct my horrible mistake, I officially announce Dr. Glen Weber as my favorite CNC professor in the other side of Gosnold Hall.

—T.M.W.—

P.S. Concerning the above letter, I apologize to Dr. Avioli, Dr. Rankins, and Dr. Turner.

Mistakes are Accounted For

From the Editor's Desk:

Due to hectic schedules and normal office confusion, a Campus Closeup concerning AMA's upcoming donut sale was omitted from the April 18th edition of The Captain's Log.

This oversight resulted in a lack of publicity for a scheduled speaker. The Log regrets any adverse effects this may have had on the organization. Hopefully, such incidents will be avoided in the future.

Sincerely,
The Editor

Correction:

In the April 18 issue of The Captain's Log, there was an article on Silvia Douglas, CNC's four time All American sprinter. The article incorrectly stated that Douglas long jumped 10'-1 3/4" in the Captain's Classic track meet. The actual measure for the jump was 18'-1 3/4". The Log apologizes for the error and for misspelling her first name in the cutline of the picture accompanying the article.

All Letters to the Editor must be typed and double-spaced on one side of the paper.

Few Attendants Gain Valuable Job Information

On Friday, April 12, 1985, Diane Williams from Traveler's Insurance Company was on campus to discuss Worker's Compensation Benefits. Unfortunately only a few employees took advantage of this opportunity to learn what benefits they may be entitled to under Worker's Compensation should they become injured on the job.

As an employee, it is your responsibility to report any personal injury on the job to your immediate supervisor, regardless of how minor it may appear. After you have reported the injury to your supervisor it is his/her responsibility to report it to the Payroll Department. The Payroll Department will report to Traveler's Insurance Company and can advise the employee of the papers necessary to process the claim in a timely manner.

Traveler's Insurance Company has provided State Agencies with a list of doctors who are authorized to treat in Worker's Compensation cases. Unless it is an emergency, before receiving any medical treatment, contact Stacy VanLeliveld, Payroll Department, 599-7030, to determine which doctor should treat the injury.

Although Traveler's Insurance Company has a 30 day reporting period, it is to the advantage of the employee to file the claim as soon as possible.

Library, Museum Sponsor Holocaust Memorial

by Lee-Ann Smith

About a month and a half ago Leslie Werner was looking for posters on the European Holocaust with which to decorate the Smith Library's front display case.

"April was my month to decorate the case, and I became aware of the depth of feeling in the community about the issue of the Holocaust and genocide," Media Librarian Werner said.

"The more people I contacted, the more people became interested in having some type of discussion or memorial," she continued.

Werner went to the War Memorial Museum for more information and found them very interested in coordinating a program. Sue Massie and John Quarstein, members of the Museum's staff, teamed with the Smith Library's Exhibit Committee and Media Department to sponsor lectures and movies for community awareness.

Speakers participating in the memorial will touch mainly on subjects concerning the European Holocaust, but, "we are also interested in showing that there is still genocide happening today, in many third world countries," Werner said.

Exhibits displayed all this week in the library are one on the Holocaust (1933-1945) in the sloping hallway, and another celebrating the 40th anniversary of VE Day in the main display case.

The memorial began on Tuesday, April 23 in the Smith Library Media Center at 11:00 a.m. with the showing of a 1934 Nazi propaganda film entitled Triumph of the Will. The film was made to arouse German interest in the Third Reich.

Also on Tuesday, two other films were shown in A-105.

Night and Fog, a movie about Nazi atrocities toward the Jewish people, contained chilling footage of concentration camps. Nuremberg Trials dealt with the trials of German Army leaders.

Night and Fog and Nuremberg Trials were shown again in the Media Department, Wednesday at 2:00 p.m.

A lecture entitled "Surviving: Personal Views of Surviving the Holocaust" was held at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, featuring three survivors of the Holocaust who talked about their experiences and what surviving means to them now.

Today, three movies will be shown from noon to 3:00 p.m. in the Media Department.

Casablanca, which deals with the United States and isolationism; Lambeth Walk, a satirical "short" on Hitler and his troops which was shown in Great Britain during the time of its bombing; and Why We Fight, an Academy Award winning 1942 documentary by director Frank Capra.

A series of four brief lectures will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in A-105.

John Quarstein, the curator of the War Memorial Museum, will speak about concentration camps.

Mario Mazarella, Associate Professor of CNC's History Department, will discuss the European Holocaust.

Hugh Treacy, Bibliographic Instructor of CNC's Smith Library, will focus on the present dangers in Chile, Cambodia, Uganda and Central America where genocide is still an issue.

Sue Massie, the Education Coordinator of the War Memorial Museum, will present the question of how could the Holocaust happen, and why genocide is continuing today.

After the lectures, the audience is encouraged to participate in a discussion concerning the topics and present-day political situations.

With this memorial, the Exhibits Committee and the rest of Smith Library's staff hope to make CNC and the community not only more aware of the events of the Holocaust, but also to realize what is available to them in the area of library and community resources.

"The library is not just four walls," Werner explained, "we're not here just to put books on bookshelves, but to help people learn about current issues and teach them how to find information about themselves and their community."

Island Project Begins in June

The Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE), one of the nation's foremost organizations concerned with international education and student travel, announced on April 8 their recruitment for its second annual youth volunteer service project on Liberty and Ellis Islands.

Scheduled to begin in June, the program will unite college students and young people from around the world in a project that combines voluntary service in the refurbishing and restoration of Ellis Island and the Statue of Liberty, cultural exchange and interaction with ethnic communities of New York City to explore the American immigrant experience.

According to Gina Chase, Associate Director, Voluntary Service, for the CIEE, this is the only program of its kind that involves youth from the U.S. and abroad in the ongoing restoration work of New York's Ellis and Liberty Islands.

"Last summer," she said, "we sponsored 100 volunteers from 11 countries and 20 states. Working under the supervision of the National Park Service, which maintains both islands, the young volunteers handled a variety of chores from groundskeeping to general clean-up. These internationalists have established a tradition of service that we are proud to continue this year."

Drawing on the cultural richness of New York City, the program also offers volunteers the opportunity to assist ethnic communities with neighborhood projects, to attend discussions with community leaders on local issues, and to relax as guests of honor at youth center barbecues, at a Yankee baseball game and at a Broadway show.

Some of last year's volunteers will continue their involvement this year when they return as group leaders.

Angela LoVasco of Gross Point Woods, Michigan, will return to Ellis Island in June to "offer my voluntary services toward refurbishing Ellis Island and toward contributing to a Youth Initiative that has an international scope, reinforcing the multinational heritage of the U.S."

The program was established in direct response to President Reagan's International Youth Exchange Initiative, which has raised federal and private monies to help over 7,000 young people participate in exchange programs thus far.

In appealing for private sector support for the Initiative, President Reagan said volunteerism is the spark that can light up our lives, "elevating our ideals, deepening our tolerance and sharpening our appetite for knowledge about the rest of the world," he said.

"Education and cultural exchanges," the President continued, "especially among our young, provide a perfect opportunity for this precious spark to grow, making us more sensitive and wiser international citizens."

With grant support from the U.S. Information Agency, the CIEE has designed its Statue of Liberty/Ellis Island project as a cooperative effort involving donations from the public and private sectors.

A fundraising campaign is now in progress to secure the funds necessary to cover all volunteer expenses, including lodging and food.

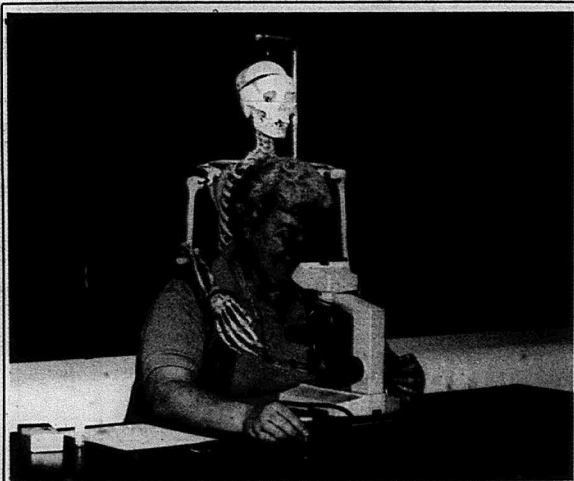

J.C. Penney Company, Inc., a leader of stature and influence in the business community, is a founding sponsor of the program. In donating $425,000 to this voluntary service project, J.C. Penney supports developing personal growth and community service among America's youth.

The symbolism of Ellis Island and the Statue of Liberty as beacons of freedom, opportunity and hope is a motivating force for all CIEE volunteers, Chase noted.

Richell Trimble of Roseburg, Oregon, who was able to volunteer last summer when her father's co-workers raised the money necessary for her trip to New York, said in her letter of appreciation:

"This would be a once in a lifetime chance for me to travel to the East Coast and observe places of interest where our nation's history was made. I feel I could also learn much

Captain's Record Now Stands at 8-18 for '85

by Teena Roe

During the past week in CNC Baseball, the Captains faced Dixie Conference foes Virginia Wesleyan, St. Andrews, and Methodist, as well as the team from Newport News Apprentice School.

CNC lost the battle against 28th nationally ranked Virginia Wesleyan, by a score of 10-2. CNC's first run was scored by Tim Casey who started off the first inning with a single up the middle.

Catcher Chris Rankin was lead-off batter in the fourth, when he hit his first home run of the season to score CNC's second run of the game.

During the game, CNC's leading hitter, Shawn Martin, walked, grounded out, flew out and then was hit by a pitch. This ended an 11-game hitting streak, which ties the record he set last year.

Pitchers for CNC were Kevin Hare, Chris Molleen, and Mike Krank (4-5), who received the loss.

Pitcher Chris Molleen recorded his fourth win, when he pitched 7- $\frac{2}{3}$ innings against St. Andrews. Molleen struck out 11 batters, walked seven, and gave up only four runs. Dave Blowe received a save with 1- $\frac{1}{2}$ innings pitched.

CNC standouts were Leo King (2 for 4), Wes O'Neal (1 for 4, with 1 RBI), and Shawn Martin (1 for 3, 2 RBIs), each who helped in CNC's 5-4 victory.

In the game against nationally ranked Methodist College, CNC lost by a score of 12-2. Pitcher, Mike Krank, received the loss with only one strike out and one walk.

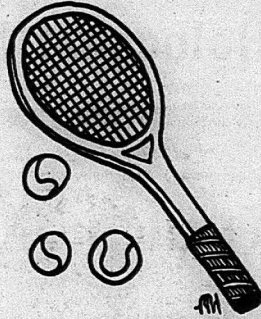

The offense for CNC was lead by Mike Houston, who batted third as a designated hitter. Houston went 3 for 4, however, no one was able to score on his hits. CNC's only runs were scored from a single by Martin, and a walk by Paul Scott.

The last game of the week was a make-up against the Apprentice School. CNC lost the game in the tenth inning, when Rich, from the Apprentice School hit a single to drive in a run, ending the game 6-5.

Jeff Cummings, received the Captain's loss when he went the entire ten innings, striking out four, and walking six.

With a 8-18 record, the Captains have only five more games left in the season. In the Conference, CNC is 3-4 with only one game left to play against NC Wesleyan.

As compared to a 1984 record of 4-22, the 1985 Captains are showing much improvement and great potential to improve the record for 1986. With the experience Coach Wiseman has given this year's young team, the Captains of 1986 will be in good shape for the 1986 season.

Ladies Tennis Team Places 2nd In Dixie Conference Tournament

by Kathleen Buckley

The CNC Lady Captains played excellent tennis at the Dixie Conference Tournament, which was held at St. Andrews this past weekend. The tournament, two days in duration, was played in scorching weather, with temperatures hovering near 93 degrees.

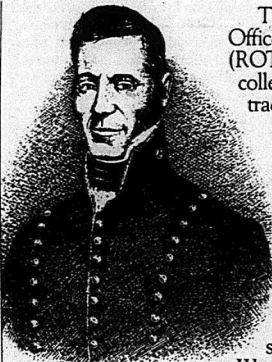

In spite of their 44-46 loss, the Ladies played well. All of them made it to the finals in the singles and doubles. Four of our six singles came away with Conference titles. Number 2 seed, Carrie Jones won 3-6, 7-6, 6-4; number 3 seed, Jenny Nuttycombe won 6-4, 6-4; number 4 seed, Agnes Soten won 7-5, 4-6, 6-4; number 5 seed, Joanne Ervin won 0-6, 7-5, 7-5. Our number 1 seed, Brigit Reese came in second, 2-6, 0-6, and Nesie Freeman, number 6 seed, also finished second with a 0-6, 1-6 win.

The Ladies did not fare well in the doubles. UNC Greensboro managed to sweep the doubles, giving them the needed points to win the tournament.

Even though the Ladies did not come in first, they gave UNC-Greensboro a close match. This is the first time in six years that any team has come within 25 points of UNC-Greensboro.

ONE OF THE OLDEST WAYS TO BECOME AN ARMY OFFICER IS STILL ONE OF THE BEST.

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) is more than a college program. It's a tradition.

For 163 years, ROTC has been training people to do a job that's also a tradition. The job of an Army officer.

In 1819, Captain Alden Partridge, a former superintendent at West Point, started what we know today as Army ROTC. He felt our country needed more "citizen soldiers." So he established the first private school to offer military instruction.

It didn't take long for his idea to spread. By the turn of the century, 105 colleges and universities across the country were offering military instruction on their campuses.

Today, with Army ROTC available at over 1,400 colleges and universities, the program is stronger than ever.

And last year alone, over 70,000 students participated.

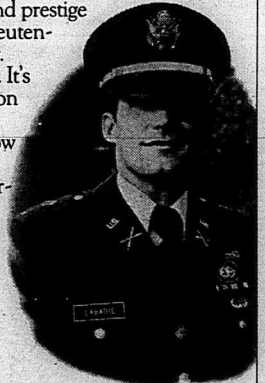

Some were interested in the leadership and management training. Others enrolled on full-tuition scholarships. And the financial assistance—up to $1,000 a year during the last two years of ROTC—attracted still others.

But all of them had one thing in common: the desire to begin their future as Army officers.

Why don't you do the same? You'll graduate to a position of real responsibility. Exercise leadership and management skills. Build a secure future for yourself. And enjoy the travel, adventure and prestige of being a second lieutenant in today's Army.

Army ROTC. It's as much of a tradition as the job it trains you for. Find out how to enroll today.

For more information, contact the Army ROTC Professor of Military Science on your campus.

'Crimes of the Heart' Filled With Laughter

by Cynthia M. Brown

Sometimes, when attending a film or a play, the viewer feels as though he has been stripped to raw nerve; he feels as though nothing is sacred or too sensitive — the people before him have touched his essence, and made him laugh while doing so.

Such is the substance of Beth Henley's Crimes of the Heart. The play is billed as comedy, and so it is. It is a human comedy. The humor comes from realizing and understanding the despair that these three sisters share; realizing that laughter is their only recourse.

Crimes of the Heart is a story embedded in stereotypes. There are three sisters from Hazelhurst, Mississippi, one of whom is a 30 year old spinster named Lenny. The others are a 27 year old third-rate singer named Meg, and a 24 year old victim of provincial marriage named Babe.

The reunion of the three sisters is one of necessity. Babe shoots her husband, and they all join forces for moral support as they try to unravel why Babe did it and decide how they will save her.

In the 24-hour course of the play, the women each confront their collective and individual pasts and come to grips with themselves and each other.

In doing so, the audience is exposed to the pressure and scorn of their society in the person of Chick. Lost chances and lost hopes are viewed in 'loc. And revenge, the bittersweet pill of Southern living is seen in young Barnett.

The people never seen, however, have the greatest effect on the three women. Their mother, who hanged herself in the cellar; and their overbearing and fatally ill grandfather, have shaped and moulded the sisters. It is to these ghosts that they must reconcile themselves.

Amid the crisis of Babe's impending doom, they learn to laugh and remember to love each other. The final scenes tell it all. Lenny is making a wish on her day-late birthday cake. Babe demands to know her wish.

Lenny tells her it is really a vision — one of the three of them together, laughing and happy. And that is precisely what the audience sees — three sisters, with laughter on their faces, ready to indulge in over-sized pieces of birthday cake.

Artist Sheaks Exhibits Acrylic Show

by Karen Lynn Hastings

Barclay Sheaks, a nationally known artist, who resides in Poquoson, and Newport News, has a three panel acrylic painting entitled "Still and Cold" on display at the Virginia Beach Fine Arts Exhibition.

Sheaks is head of the art program at Virginia Wesleyan College. He is a graduate of Virginia Commonwealth University, and he has also studied at William and Mary.

The exhibition is called Sublime Landscape, and Sheaks' piece reflects that mood. Each of the three panels are 30"X48", depicting an icy creek woven around patches of brown marsh and skeletal trees. The use of the artists' distinct method guides the onlookers eyes continuously across each of the panels, following the path of the creek. ("Still and Cold" is pictured on the cover of his book Sketching the Eyes Distance, containing his poetry and reproductions of selected paintings.)

Sheaks has shown his works at the Center in the past and notes, "it is a special show." He shows his art around the country, and in May, will be attending an international show in Montreal.

Sheaks likes to work with acrylics, which only seems natural since he helped to develop the medium. After it was produced in Germany, a consultant asked Sheaks (who was one of the first artists in Virginia to use acrylics) to help perfect this medium.

It is her sense of hopelessness, her drive to hold on and meld things together, that makes the other characters stop and look at themselves and each other. It is her continual, practical, yet personable carriage that gives the sisters' lives continuity and a sense of family.

Of such things are Pulitzer's made! To all of the cast and production crew: A job well done. To the playwright, encore. To all those yet to see it, please, treat yourself to an evening of compassion and laughter and tears. It is well worth the time.

via satellite. He received a great deal of fan mail from the station in California, and was asked to do another series — and there is a good chance he'll do it.

He also has a new book on drawing people. It will soon be available in book stores.

The Virginia Beach Fine Art Exhibition lasts through May 5.

Barclay Sheaks, nationally known artist and instructor, is a native of Newport News.

ROTC Notes

On May 1, selected ROTC cadets will be at the Hampton Coliseum for Career Awareness Day. Over 3,000 junior and senior high school students are expected to attend to attend.

Also, on April 26, the ROTC of CNC and the College of William and Mary will get together for their annual formal affair - the Military Ball. This year, it will be held at the Fort Eustis Officers Club.

Finally, commissioning for this year's graduating class will be held in the Administration Building, Room 105, at 1:30 p.m., and during the Commencement Ceremony. All are welcome to attend.

Karate Championships

Karate champs, CNC game room wants to see your moves. During the week of April 26 to May 3 students and staff with joy-stick skills can compete in the championship.

The top scorer at the end of the week wins five hours of free pool. Winner will be posted Monday May 6. Good Luck!

Thank You

The Social Work-Sociology Club wishes to thank sincerely Mr. James Byrd, manager of the Beechmont Twin Theaters in Denbigh. He donated the popcorn that the club sold during SpringFest.

Proceeds from the sale are being donated to Ethiopian Hunger Relief, as are those from the club's March 29 bake sale.

The club also wishes to thank all who patronized their sales and who made these donations possible.

American Marketing Association

The American Marketing Association will hold a donut and orange juice sale in front of Wingfield Hall on April 25 and 26, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m.

This will be a fund-raising event for future educational programs as well as a membership drive. Business majors are urged to consider joining this professional business organization.

Programs are already being planned for the fall, and contact with guest speakers could help expand one's career network.

from other people participating in this project, which could further peace among our world's population."

A young volunteer from England said: "I consider this project a unique experience. I've had a delightful time ... good talk, contact, exciting events. I really feel strongly that people learn from intimate group associations - working, eating and socializing together."

Another worker from Ireland underscored the value of such an international exchange: "The thrill is being part of a group from so many different cultures and political backgrounds."

As restoration work proceeds on both Ellis and Liberty Islands, the National Park Service says it looks forward to welcoming more volunteers this summer.

According to a spokesman for the NPS, this year's students will continue the work begun by last year's recruits: clearing out rubble, gardening, raking, weeding and lawnmowing. Last year, says NPS Deputy Superintendent Kevin Buckley, the students saved approximately $68,000 for the National Park Service.

Students who are at least 16 years old, may apply for one of the three program sessions scheduled this summer: June 16-July 6; July 14-August 3; August 11-August 31.

New Film Class Offered At VCU

Animal Farm, All the President's Men, The Grapes of Wrath, All Quiet on the Western Front and Dr. Strangelove are among the 21 films and documentaries that will be studied in a course entitled "Film Images of Power" to be offered this summer at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Dr. Herbert Hirsch, chairman of VCU's political science department, will teach the course which will explore, through visual imagery, politics and the operation of power.

The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7:00 to 9:40 p.m. May 29 through August 18. Additional information may be obtained by calling 257-0200.

LAFB Salutes Hampton

Langley Air Force Base is having its annual open house, a salute to Hampton's 375th Anniversary, on Sunday, May 5, from noon until 5 p.m.

The precision flying of the USAF Aerial Demonstration Squadron, the Thunderbirds, will highlight the day's activities. Also performing will be the U.S. Army's Golden Knights parachute team and aerial demonstrations of the F-15 Eagle, the A-10 Thunderbolt, and the AV-8 Harrier aircraft.

More than 20 fighter jets, reconnaissance and transport aircraft, including the world's fastest operational aircraft, the SR-71 Blackbird, and a C-5 Galaxy, the Free World's largest aircraft, will be on display.

Admission and parking are free and everyone is welcome. For further information, call the 1st Tactical Fighter Wing Public Affairs Office at (804) 764-2018.
