White House Fellowships

Information has been received at this office regarding the annual competition for White House Fellowships. From the cover letter:

The White House Fellowships provides our Nation's most talented future leaders with the opportunity to learn about government, policymaking and leadership at the highest levels of the Federal government. White House Fellows serve for one year as special assistants to members of the Cabinet, agency heads, the Vice President or senior White House Staff members. In this capacity they observe and participate in policymaking at the highest levels of the federal government.

In addition to the work experience, Fellows are enriched by the education program which focuses on off-the-record meetings with a diverse group of private and public sector leaders, including most Cabinet Members and leaders from business, the media and academia.

The White House Fellowships is a highly competitive program with less than twenty Fellows selected each year. Successful applicants for the Fellowship have demonstrated potential for future leadership, intellectual and professional achievement and a commitment to public service.

This is a truly unique and exciting program. I urge you to encourage your best graduates and faculty members to take advantage of this opportunity. White House Fellows brochure/applications are enclosed. Additional copies can be obtained from the President's Commission on White House Fellowships, 712 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, DC 20503; (202)395-4522. The application deadline is December 15, 1988.

Contact the Office of the VPAA to examine these materials.

to the VPAA
