

CHRONICLE

Aug. 21, 1992

CNU PHOTO -- Anyone who was on hand July 1 for the human CNU photo and would like a free copy of the picture may pick one up at the Office of University Relations. University Relations is temporarily located in Smith 128G.

CATALOG UPDATE -- Please add the following information to summer session Term 3 on Page 5 of the '92 - '93 University Catalog: Thursday June 10 is the last day to withdraw without grade penalty; Thursday June 24 is the last day of classes, and Friday June 25 will be final examinations. These three key dates were inadvertently omitted.

FACULTY RELOCATION -- All offices within the Departments of Modern and Classical Languages and Literature, Philosophy and Religious Studies, and English are now located on the 4th Floor of the Newport News Savings Bank building, which is two blocks west on Warwick Boulevard. Telephone numbers for faculty and staff within these departments remain unchanged.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES -- Rita Hubbard's article, "Magic and Transformation: Relationships in Popular Romance Novels, 1950s to the 1980s," will appear in Popular Culture: An Introductory Text by Jack Nachbar and Kevin Lause, Bowling Green: The Popular Press, 1992.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES -- Betty Anglin just received an award for the Artists in Education Residency Program from the Virginia Commission for the Arts. In between CNU semesters, she will be conducting an in-depth two week art program with grades 1 - 5 at Trinity Lutheran School as well as working on her own painting on site. This summer she won Best in Show at the 20th Century Members Show, which was juried by Julia Boyd of the Virginia Museum. In the month of July, she exhibited with two other artists in the 20th Century "Summer Choices" exhibit. She has had a painting selected for the juried Bay Days Show scheduled for August/September at the Charles Taylor Arts Centre in Hampton.

Office of University Relations

Newport News, VA 23606-2998 Voice: (804) 594-7039 TDD: (804) 594-7155 FAX: (804) 594-7713

Commonwealth of Virginia

NEW EMPLOYEE -- Welcome to Charles R. Hamlett, utility serviceman in the Campus Center.

NEW EMPLOYEE -- Welcome to Judy P. Stenzhorn, program support technician in the Dept. of Athletics.

NEW EMPLOYEE -- Welcome to Becky Tupper, coordinator of Corporate Recruitment in the Office of Career and Counseling Services. Becky brings more than six years of experience in career and placement assistance expertise to Student Services. With the strong network she has developed within the business community, Becky looks forward to assisting CNU students and supporting faculty wherever possible.

SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR THE ARTS -- One hundred thirty-seven high school students completed the Seventh SIA on Aug. 2. Each student received one weighted high school credit for completing the six-week program in art, drama, dance or theatre. The SIA is cosponsored by CNU and the Newport News Public Schools.

OFFICE RELOCATION -- The Development Office has relocated, temporarily, to Smith Hall. John Campbell, University Relations, is in Smith 128G; Jim Eagle, Grants, is in Smith 138; and in Smith 163 are Norma Brown - Annual Fund, Betty Gooch - Alumni Relations, and Helen Kellis - Gift Records. Phone numbers remain the same. The Development Office is scheduled to return to the fourth floor of the Admin. Building in mid-September.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES -- Dr. Mario Mazzarella recently appeared as Adolf Hitler and Karl Marx at Ferguson High School, and has spoken on the rise and fall of the medieval knight (while wearing armor) to a class at Lindsay Middle School.

NOTE OF THANKS -- Just a few words to say thank you to my CNU "family" for the many calls, cards, visits and flowers that I received during my hospital stay and recuperation period at home. Your expressions of concern contributed greatly to my recovery. Again, my heartfelt thanks to each of you. Rita Savage

FACULTY ACTIVITIES -- Dr. Linda Sanders had two articles accepted for publication: "Secondary Science Teachers' Knowledge Base When Teaching Courses In and Out of Their Areas of Certification" in the Journal of Research in Science Teaching, co-authored with Hilda Borko, University of Colorado, and David Lockard, University of Maryland; "What to do when Teaching Something New" in The Science Teacher (Sept. 1992 issue).

NEH GRANTS -- The National Endowment for the Humanities has announced the 1993 Summer Stipends Program. Deadline for submission of final proposals is Oct. 1, 1992. Preliminary proposals must be in by Sept. 15, 1992. Institutional nomination for this program is required and application materials are now available. No more than three faculty members may be nominated. Stipends are fixed at $4,000 for projects without travel and $4,750 for projects with travel. The NEH is also sponsoring two initiatives, "The Emergence of Democracy" and the "Columbian Quincentenary." Applications for these initiatives do not require nomination by the institution. Brochures on these programs are available in the Grants Office (Smith 138) and will be provided on request. Direct contact may also be made with the NEH at:

Division of Fellowships and Seminars, Room 316
National Endowment for the Humanities
1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20506
Phone (202) 786-0466

FACULTY ACTIVITIES -- In May, Clyde Brockett read his paper, "Some Unusual Musical Speeches in a Newly Discovered Manuscript in Zagreb," at the 27th International Congress on Medieval Studies at Kalamazoo, MI. He was invited to read this paper and a position paper for a round-table organized to discuss methodologies at the Sixth Triennial Congress of the International Society for the Study of Medieval Theater, held in Girona, Spain. In June, he attended a two-day symposium on Hispanic-American musics in commemoration of the American quincentennial, "An Ongoing Voyage: Music" held at the Library of Congress.

BUSINESS BREAKFAST -- The first Peninsula Business Breakfast of the 1992-93 series will be Tuesday, Sept. 8 from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. in the Anderson Auditorium, A-105. Pat Phillips, president and CEO of Newport News Shipbuilding, is the speaker. His topic will be "Newport News Shipbuilding: Charting a Course in the '90s." Reservations are not required. There is no charge to attend. A complimentary continental breakfast begins at 7:30 a.m. Space is limited and seating is first-come, first-served.

NIH GRANTS -- A National Institutes of Health brochure on the National Research Service Awards for Individual Post-Doctoral Fellows is now available. This is a highly focused program to support biomedical and behavioral research requiring full-time commitment to the research activity and an appropriate sponsoring institution. Please refer to this notice for any further inquiry. This program is on a repeating cycle with three submissions each year. The next cycle would be a submission by Jan. 10, 1993.

The NIH is also seeking applications for Research on Treatment Effectiveness for Learning Disabled Children. Deadline for submission is Jan. 7, 1993. Additional information is available in the Grants Office (Smith 138). Please refer to the NIH bulletin for Aug. 7, 1992 when making inquiries about this program.

NSF GRANTS -- The National Science Foundation's program brochure on the NSF Visiting Professorships for Women is now available. Applicants must: 1. hold a Ph.D. in a field of research supported by the NSF; 2. have independent research experience; 3. be currently affiliated with an institution of higher education; 4. NOT have a salaried position with the proposed HOST institution, and 5. be a U.S. citizen. Application deadline is Nov. 1, 1992.

To: Chronicle
From: Office of Information Technology Services Kavanaugh Mc Cullick
Subject: Computer Facilities for Fall, 1992 (extension 47180)
Date: August, 1992

	McMurrin Hall Labs*	Business College Lab
Mo-Th	9 a.m. to 10 p.m.	9 a.m. to 6:45 p.m.
Friday	9 a.m. to 4 p.m.	9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
Saturday	Noon - 6 p.m.	none
Sunday	Noon - 6 p.m.	none

The McMurrin Hall Labs are comprised of a PC-DOS networked lab of 20 computers, a Digital Equipment Advanced Workstation Network of 25 DEC 5100 workstations (which manages access to INTERNET), and the Computer Resource Center described below.*

The Computer Resource Center

The Resource Center is located in McMurrin Hall, room 123. It contains computer equipment for disabled students and faculty, two DEC work stations, two diskfull PC DOS computers with printers, 8 APPLE IIe computers with printers, 5 MAC SE Macintosh computers connected to a laser printer. The Resource Center is intended primarily for the use of faculty who wish to spend time with their students in a computer environment outside of their offices and the open labs and for administrative staff to experiment with different computer systems.

Reservations of Labs and Electronic Classroom by Faculty

Reservations for the use of Gosnold 123 during non-class hours and other labs at any hour can be made by calling the Office of Information Technology Services (ITSV) at x4-7180. Reservations are limited to one hour intervals, twice a semester per class.

More Information

More information is available which describes the hardware, software, and services for these facilities. Please stop by McMurrin Hall, Room 119 or call x47180.

Requirements for Students Using the Open Labs

Students must surrender their ID card which has been bar-coded by the library. It is returned to them when they leave the labs.

Gosnold 123, the Computer Classroom

Students cannot use G123 as an open lab. Most software available in this classroom is also available in the PC DOS lab in McMurrin Hall which has extended lab hours. Faculty who teach in G123 have access to the network at all times should make arrangements with the Office of Information Technology Services prior to using it for late night or weekend "help" sessions.

PENINSULA BUSINESS BREAKFASTS 1992-93

Sponsors

Christopher Newport University Continuing Education

Daily Press

Rancorn Wildman Krause Brezinski Architects

CNU - Anderson Auditorium - 7:30 a.m.

- | | |
|--------------------|--|
| September 8 | Newport News Shipbuilding: Charting a Course in the 90's
W.R. (Pat) Phillips, Jr.
President and Chief Executive Officer
NEWPORT NEWS SHIPBUILDING |
| October 13 | Health Care in Virginia - Public Policy Issues
The Honorable Howard M. Cullum
Secretary of Health and Human Resources
COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA |
| November 10 | "An Introduction to LUCAS"
F. Lon Slane, Vice President / General Manager
LUCAS CONTROL SYSTEMS PRODUCTS |
| December 8 | Blacksburg Electronic Village: 21st Century Communications Community
Joseph A. Wiencko, Jr., Project Manager
VIRGINIA TECH |
| January 12 | Annual Economic Outlook for 1993
Dr. Marshall Booker
Director - Bureau of Business Economic Research
CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT UNIVERSITY |
| February 9 | The Peninsula Advanced Technology Development Center - A New Paradigm for the Peninsula's Development
Lt. Col. James M. Montgomery - Center for Advanced Technologies
UNITED STATES AIR FORCE |
| March 9 | "CEBAF and Technology Transfer on the Peninsula"
George Neil, L.I.N.A.C. Manager
CONTINUOUS ELECTRON BEAM ACCELERATOR FACILITY |
| April 13 | "Going Public"
William M. Donaldson, President
nVIEW CORPORATION |
| May 11 | To Be Announced |
| June 8 | "Cash for Trash"
Moderator: Dr. Harold N. Cones, Jr., Department Chair
Biology, Chemistry, and Environmental Science
CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT UNIVERSITY
Panelists: Michelle C. Whitlow, Asst. Recycling Coordinator
CITY OF NEWPORT NEWS
Kevin Gallagher, Recycling Manager
CITY OF HAMPTON
Tim Koogler, President
WASTE MANAGEMENT OF HAMPTON ROADS |

The Office of University Relations

extends a special

WELCOME

to our

42 new faculty members

and a

WELCOME BACK to our returning faculty!